Martin Lauds New Program After Review

Congressional Chiefs Briefed by President; Report Is Due Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower gave Republican legislative leaders a detailed review today of his program for the new session of Congress, and House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) hailed it as "dynamic" and "progressive."

"We all think it is a program that will be well received by all elements of the country," Martin said as spokesman for the leaders.

Opens Busy Week

The White House conference opened a momentous and busy week for the President. Tonight, he will go on radio and television at 9:30 p.m. EST to discuss what his administration has done so far and to outline the philosophy of the program he will recommend in the State of the Union message to be delivered in person to a joint Senate-House session Thursday.

That message will lay down the general outline of his legislative program.

In a series of later messages, Eisenhower will deal with specific subjects.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty announced the President will submit his 1954-1955 budget to Congress Jan. 21 and will follow it with the annual economic message on Jan. 28.

Special Messages

Hagerty said Eisenhower will send Congress special messages recommending farm and labor law changes Jan. 11.

Today's meeting with nine GOP congressional leaders and the Cabinet was preliminary to a session tomorrow which will bring Democratic leaders to the White House along with Republican lieutenants.

Congress convenes at noon Wednesday.

Martin declined to give any hint as to what will be in the President's talk tonight or in his State of the Union address.

He said the legislators were given a "very interesting resume" of the President's program and discussed some of its aspects with the Cabinet members involved.

He said the President took an hour to read from the State of the Union address. Describing it as "a very good message," Martin said, "We all think it is a dynamic, progressive program and one that will be well received by all elements of the country."

'Looks Like Good One'

All Martin would say about the President's labor law program, understood to involve some revision of the Taft-Hartley act, was that "it looks like a good one."

Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, who has warred with the administration on some phases of its tax program, sat in on today's meeting.

When reporters asked him what he thought of the tax portions of the state of the Union message,

REUNION. Sobbing with joy, Cpl. Claude Batchelor tightly embraces his Japanese wife, Kyoko, after their reunion in a Tokyo army hospital. Batchelor, the second hold-out American POW to turn his back on communism and ask repatriation, told newsmen that Kyoko's letters played a large part in drawing him back to freedom. After he has been given a thorough physical and been questioned further by Army intelligence officers, the couple plans to vacation in Japan before going to Texas for a reunion with Batchelor's family. Mounties Set Up Talk

U.S. Senators Quiz Gouzenko in Secret

MONTREAL (AP) — Strict official secrecy and thick Canadian snow covered the tracks of U. S. Senators William Jenner (R-Ind) and Pat McCarran (D-Nev) today in their quest for what Igor Gouzenko knows about Soviet spying in the United States.

The two top members of the Senate internal security subcommittee, accompanied by two aides, arrived here yesterday in a blaze of publicity for their secret meeting with the former Soviet code clerk whose 1945 flight from the Russian Embassy in Ottawa revealed a Communist atom spy ring in America and Britain.

After a news conference and a closely guarded, six-hour parley in the Windsor Hotel with Supt. J. R. Lemieux of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the senators and Lemieux slipped into an official car late yesterday afternoon and drove rapidly of into the snowstorm which blanketed Montreal.

There was some speculation that Gouzenko had been brought to the hotel for the interview, but the party's later departure seemed to indicate they were headed for a secret rendezvous. U. S. Ambassador Douglas Stuart also attended the hotel conference and left with the group.

McCarran had told reporters the four-man U. S. team planned to stay in Canada until "the mission is completed." Jenner said they hoped to be back in Washington for the opening of Congress Wednesday.

Jenner, the subcommittee chairman, said he and McCarran "are

West Drafts 3-Point Plan On Germany

Ministers To Be Ready Should Russia Decide To Negotiate at Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western Powers are plannng to confront Russia with a three-point German peace program at the Berlin conference, if it appears that the Soviets show up with some serious intention to negotiate.

One effect of the program worked out by the United States, British and French governments in a series of meetings recently concluded at Paris would be, in the view of Western officials, to wipe out the Communist East German government.

Appears Unacceptable

It therefore appears in advance to be wholly unacceptable to the Soviets. Authorities here voice doubt that even a start can be made at Berlin toward developing a real compromise between the Russian and Western attitudes toward Germany's future.

There is now ample evidence, however, that the discussions between Western leaders and Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov will range far beyond the immediate problem of German peacemaking to embrace:

1. Some talk between Secretary of State Dulles and Molotov on President Eisenhower's proposal for a pool of atomic materials for peaceful uses and Russia's renewed call for a ban on atomic weapons.

2. Discussion among all the ministers — Molotov, Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Eden and the French foreign minister then in office—of relations with Red China. That seems almost certain to lead into some talk of a Korean settlement and the war in Indochina.

3. Exploration by the West of the attitudes an dintentions of Russia's new Malenkov government.

Plans Discussion

Dulles disclosed last week he was planning to discuss the atomic situation with Molotov. The Russians served notice in one of their notes on the Berlin meeting that they would press for a subsequent Big Five session to include Red China.

In the meantime officials here expect some preliminary exchanges on the atomic problem between Washington and Moscow.

The Berlin conference, originally proposed by the Western Powers to begin today, was delayed at Moscow's request until Jan. 25.

U. S., British and French diplomats, at Paris meetings ending about two weeks ago, reaffirmed intention to demand that the German peacemaking proceed by these stages:

1. Holding of elections throughout East and West Germany under conditions which would give the German people complete freedom to vote as they wished. The purpose would be to elect representatives for formation of an all German government. American diplomats believes that in such an

22,000 May Be Liberated In U.N. Move

Preparations Begun By U.S. Forces To Get Captives to Railheads

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The U. N. Commander, Gen. John E. Hull, today blamed the Communists for the breakdown of prisoner explanations and said without qualification that all anti-Red prisoners will be freed at midnight Jan. 22.

To drive home the UNC demand that the captives be released "as of 12:01 a.m. Jan. 23," U. S. Marines and engineers began stringing miles of barbed wire fences to channel the prisoners from neutral zone compounds to rail heads.

ROKs Approve

Hull reiterated the U. N. Command's position in a strongly worded letter to Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission.

The U. N. commander blasted as one-sided and slanted a report by Indian, Polish and Czech members of the repatriation commission that accused the UNC of maintaining control over the anti-Red prisoners.

"The U. N. Command," Hull declared, "categorically denies any implication that we have attempted, in any way, to exercise control to the slightest degree over" the prisoners.

Reds Sabotaged Program

He said the Communist high command caused the collapse of the explanation program by:

1. Unreasonable and changing demands for explanation facilities.

2. Refusal to accept reasonable numbers of willing prisoners for explanations each day.

3. The Reds' rejection of available explanation time unless the NNRC and Indian custodial troops approved all their demands—including the use of force to make POWs listen to explanations.

Hull told Thimayya the UNC is fully prepared to handle the 20,000 North Korean and Chinese prisoners who refuse to return to their Red-ruled homelands.

U. N. officers said rail car and truck convoys will be waiting south of the demilitarized zone for freed anti-Communist prisoners and that ships at Inchon will be readied to carry any of the 14,000 Chinese who may wish to go to Formosa.

Other officers have said the UNC is prepared to move all 22,000 anti-Reds—if necessary—out of the Munsan area in two to three days.

Neither the Indian command nor the NNRC apparently has made a firm decision regarding the Jan. 22 release date.

Thimayya, after reading Hull's statement, commented to newsmen:

"It has always been the Indian position that the two sides must agree to any detention of prisoners after Jan. 22. If the two sides do not agree, we will, of course, have to devise some means of releasing them."

Osgood Buys Capital Stock of Excavator Co.

Merger Completed; Firms Will Continue Operations as Before

Merger of the Osgood Co. and the General Excavator Co. of Marion was announced today by company officials who reported Osgood has purchased all capital stock of General Excavator.

The purchase is the third step in a move toward consolidation begun three years ago.

In October, 1950, the Osgood and General Excavator sales divisions combined to market the companies' products under the name Osgood-General.

During 1952, the second step took place with unification of field-service operations, again under the name Osgood -General, although separate service headquarters were maintained in Marion.

Coporate structure of the Osgood Company now includes as wholly owned subsidiaries both the Commercial Steel Casting Co. and the General Excavator Co.

Edgar W. Barnhart, formerly vice president and general manager of General Excavator, has been elected as vice president and secretary of the Osgood Co.

Other officers of the Osgood Co. are Robert C. Owens, president; Ben T. Wiant, vice president and treasurer; and John F. Lacey, vice president for foundry operations.

The reorganization will not affect

Yule Trees Picked Up by Scouts Are Stacked, Burned

Several thousand persons watched a giant Christmas tree bonfire Saturday night which was conducted by the Marion District Scouts and officials of the Harding Area Boy Scout Council as a "Burning of the Green" ceremony."

Scout officials estimated that between 10,000 and 12,000 Christmas trees were burned in the ceremony at the site of the old Forest Lawn grade school at Forest Lawn Blvd. and E. Church St. Dean Johnson, district Scout executive, said persons were lined around the entire block six or eight deep.

BILLY McMANUS, Second Class Scout from Troop 4 which is sponsored by the Trinity Baptist Church, reigned over the ceremony as "king." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William McManus of 272 E. Mark St. His aides, chosen by him from his troop, were Edgar Lust, a First Class Scout; Jeff Wise, a First Class Scout; and Gerald Bosh, a Tenderfoot.

The four began the ceremony by lighting the giant pile of trees with torches. A parade from E. Church and High Sts. led by a police escort and the Bird-McGinnis Drum and Bugle Corps in which approximately 200 Scouts participated preceded the ceremony. McManus became king of the ceremony when he drew the piece of cake containing a button in it. Dr. A. J. Wagner, council camping and activities chairman, and Johnson handed out the pieces of cake to approximately 14 Scouts who represented their troop, pack or post in the selection of the king.

JOHNSON SAID TODAY quite a number of Scouts in addition to the number in the parade were present at the ceremony. Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers assisted in gathering the trees for the ceremony all day Saturday. It was done as a service to Marion residents, removing the highly inflammable trees from their homes to curb the fire hazards there.

Johnson said all the trees were afire in some 15 minutes and that the fire was at its height in only about five minutes. The trees were stacked 15 to 20 feet high in a pile approximately 150 feet long and 50 to 60 feet wide.

HE TERMED the ceremony a success and praised the city and fire department for the cooperation received. Fire Chief O. A. Sifritt directed the lighting of the fire. Two fire trucks stood by and later put out the fire after it had died down. Seven trucks for gathering the trees were provided by the city service department, Ohio Fuel Gas Co., Marion Water Co., and Scouts.

Johnson said that Scouts would go out next Saturday and clean up the ashes at the site of the burning.

Highway Total Misses Record; 298 Lose Lives

Nation's Accidental Deaths Placed at 408 In New Year Weekend

By The Associated Press

Accidental deaths during the three-day New Year's weekend were just shy of the record set three years ago, but still were far below the total registered a week earlier during the Christmas weekend.

At least 298 persons were killed in traffic accidents during the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. (local time) Thursday to midnight yesterday. Another 39 died in fires and 71 more were killed in miscellaneous accidents for a total of 408.

The record for a three-day new year's weekend was set at 424 in 1949-50 and equalled the following year; the record of traffic deaths for such a period, set in 1949-50, is 304.

The National Safety Council had estimated that 360 would die in traffic.

The 1953 Christmas weekend saw 717 persons die in accidents, 523 in traffic mishaps.

Drivers Avoid Accidents Here Over Weekend

Marion city and county roads were accident-free over the weekend. Neither police nor state patrolmen from the Marion post reported mishaps Saturday or Sunday.

A vigorous enforcement program, under which 36 motorists were arrested for violations, helped curb the number of accidents, police and patrolmen said.

Over the holiday weekend, from 6 p.m. Thursday until this morning, only nine accidents were reported—six in the city and three in the county. Only two minor accidents happened in the usually dangerous night hours of New Year's Eve. The rest happened Friday.

Police Chief Tom Coon said this morning heavy enforcement measures taken by officials was greatly responsible for the lack of accidents. He added that people were more accident-wary this year, because of publicity given to accident prevention during the holiday season.

Coon reported this was the first weekend in his memory in which no accidents occurred. State patrolmen said people seemed to be influenced by the heavy number of traffic deaths over the Christmas weekend and were more cautious.

Traffic was light Saturday, patrolmen reported. Sunday, it was fairly heavy most of the day, but became extremely heavy from 2 p.m. until about 8 p.m.

Roger Kyes Visits Here With Family

Deputy Secretary of Defense Roger M. Kyes, Mrs. Kyes and their four daughters — Carolyn, Frances, Katharine and Anne, were in Marion Sunday visiting Mrs. Kyes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jacoby of 383 S. State St.

The former General Motors executive and his family drove to Marion from their home at Bloomfield Hills, Mich., to attend the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Jacoby's golden wedding anniversary. Also present for the event were Dr. and Mrs. Ben Jacoby of Columbus and their daughters, Barbara, Lynne and Roberta.

Judge Nullifies Action Taken By Grand Jury

Indictments Thrown Out After Discovery Juror Served Illegally

Actions taken by the Marion County grand jury, which returned indictments against 12 persons the day before Christmas, have been set aside by Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith.

The January term grand jury, scheduled to convene Jan. 13, will re-consider all cases heard by the jury sitting in December, including two cases in which no indictments were returned.

This action was taken by Judge Smith when it was noticed by one of the defense attorneys that one juror had served on the grand jury during the previous year, which is contrary to law.

Included among the cases to be re-submitted to a grand jury is the first-degree murder charge against Bert Elswick, 37-year-old Marionite, who has admitted strangling his 31-year-old wife the night of Dec. 5 at the Green Camp dump.

The court action nullifies the arraignment pleadings of the 12 persons, but since all 12 had not guilty pleas entered through their attorneys or by the court, this does not change their status.

Those persons who were out of jail on bond had arranged bond prior to the arraignment, so their bond is still good, court officials pointed out, while those persons in jail are still there.

No further action on the 12 cases had been taken by the court, other than the appointing of attorneys for those persons who claimed they were financially unable to hire attorneys.

Democrats Seek Information on Slash of Troops

Russell, Johnson Want President's Thinking; Conflict Could Arise

WASHINGTON (AP)— Democrats will ask President Eisenhower at a White House briefing tomorrow to tell them why he thinks they should support his decision to withdraw two American divisions from Korea.

Sen. Russell of Georgia, top Democrat on the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he is anxious to learn the background for this military shift. Earlier, Russell said that the move seemed at first glance to "smack of appeasement."

"I am sure the President has some very good reasons for making this decision," Russell said in an interview. "I feel that we in Congress should be apprised of the reasons."

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, was understood to be backing Russell in this search for information.

Several of Johnson's colleagues have condemned the move as likely to weaken American military

Pupils Back in Schools, 2-Week Vacation Ends

After a two-week Christmas vacation, students in the Marion public and parochial schools were back in the classrooms this morning.

The city's schools dismissed on Friday, Dec. 18, for the yearly holiday recess which almost marks the half of the school year.

Students in the county schools also returned to their classes this morning. They had been dismissed about a week later than the city schools, on Dec. 23 and 24.

Attendance at all the schools was reported as very good.

Dewey Blasted by ILA in N.Y. Dock Struggle

NEW YORK (AP)—The International Longshoremen's Assn. has announced it will file formal charges with the National Labor Relations Board that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is guilty of unfair labor practices in the struggle for waterfront union control.

George A. Brenner, counsel for the ILA, says the charges will be filed this week against Dewey and Merlyn S. Pitzele, chairman of the state mediation board and labor adviser to Dewey.

The union will accuse Dewey and Pitzele of improper efforts to block contract negotiations betwen the ILA and the shipping and stevedoring employers here.

The ILA, ousted from the AFL for failure to cleanse itself of crime and racketeering elements, is fighting for dock union control with the new ILA-AFL.

Announcement of the ILA's plans to proceed against Dewey and Pitzele before the NLRB was made last night.

ILA President William V. Bradley said yesterday wildcat strikes possibly will tie up the port of New York "if Gov. Dewey continues to interfere with the operation of a union that just won an election—if he goes to the NLRB and interferes."

Bradley, appearing on the CBS radio program "Let's Find Out," accused Dewey of acting as an organizer for the new ILA-AFL.

Dewey's office at Albany reported him out of the city and not immediately available for comment on the charge

Jet Bombers Form Backbone

U.S. Gearing Air Power To Swift Defense, Attack

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force, racing against the growth of Russian air power, now has at least half its fleet of strategic medium bombers composed of swift, high-altitude jet craft.

And by the end of this year the last of the World War II design, conventional-engined B29 and B50 bombers may be gone from the medium wings, replaced by the atom bomb-toting Boeing B47 jets.

Reliance on Air Power

These developments apparently figured in the recent decision to rely less on manpower and more on air power to maintain the U. S. military position in the Far East.

In 1953, deliveries of all types of military planes from the aircraft industry totaled about 12,000.

Accellerated deliveries coupled with crew training during recent months, it was learned today, have enabled the Strategic Air Command to raise to between 8 and 10 the number of medium bomber wings equipped with B47s. A wing of that type normally contains 45 planes.

4 Wings of B36s

The rapid increase in the Soviet Union's operating air fleet of jet and rocket-powered interceptors has made more urgent the conversion of the U.S. strategic fleet from the slow (400 miles an hour) jet planes.

For long-range heavy bombardment the air force at present has about four wings (30 planes each) of Convair B36 bombers. These huge planes can carry 40 tons of bombs of any kind, including hydrogen weapons, at moderate ranges and operate over a radius of more than 5,000 miles with lesser loads. Their speed has been stepped up to above 435 miles by adding four jet engines to the six piston engines which give the

Marion, Toledo Split in Two Weekend Hockey Tilts

Misconduct Penalties Idle Kenny Schultz, Ted Lebioda

Marion and Toledo broke even in a pair of weekend International Hockey League games. The Barons took a 3-1 decision Saturday night at the Toledo arena and the Mercurys won by the same count yesterday afternoon at the Coliseum.

The game Sunday was marked by 70 minutes of penalty time. The penalties handed out included a match misconduct to the Barons' Kenny Schultz and 10-minute misconduct calls against Phil Vitale, Lou Crowdis and Bill Mitchell. Crowdis' was served by Hal Jones.

Schultz Ousted

Schultz was given the heave by Referee Gordon Parsons in the first period when the entire Baron squad jumped the ref to claim a Toledo player returned to the ice illegally after leaving the penalty box. Parsons turned a deaf ear to the arguments and before the squabble cooled down. Schultz had been banished and Crowdis had drawn his penalty when he left the goal crease to join the argument.

Schultz joined Defenseman Ted Lebioda on the idle list. Lebioda had been idled after a match misconduct called at Toledo Saturday night. Neither he nor the Mercs' Bill Booth were in action after they were banished for going after each other with sticks.

A spokesman for the Barons said league headquarters probably would act on the two misconducts today or tomorrow.

The weekend action left the Barons in a tie for fourth place in the IHL. Marion with 36 points is tied with Troy and is just two points back of third-place Johnstown. The Mercs retained second place with 39, two points off Cincinnati's league-leading pace.

Barons Take Lead

In the Saturday night game, the Barons took the lead with one second left in the first period, Dutch Delmonte scored the first of two goals with assists by Tony Poeta and Ott Heller. He was assisted in the second period by Phil Vitale when he boosted the score to 2-0 at the 11:38 mark. Bill Lynn scored Toledo's only goal at the 14:41 mark in the second period and was assisted by Del St. John and Chuck Wood. The Barons' other score came in the final period when Joe Ingoldsby scored with an assist from Wimpy Jones.

The Toledo 'lightning line' notched all three goals in yesterday's game. Dick Pontarollo shoved in the first one after 18:27 of the first period. Roy Hammond was credited with an assist. Gordie Vejprava knotted the count in the second period when he skated the length of the rink for Marion's only counter. Brklacich and Heller assisted. Hammond, assisted by Pontarollo and Johnny Kovich scored after seven minutes of the second stanza to put the Mercs ahead for keeps. The same three teamed up for the final tally after 14:34 of the third period with Hammond getting the goal.

2,832 Attend

A total of 2,832 fans watched Sunday's slugfest. Of the 70 minutes in penalties, the Barons drew 46. The Barons will open a busy week Wednesday night when they entertain Fort Wayne at the Coliseum. Thursday night they travel to Milwaukee and Saturday will open a two-game series with the league-leading Mohawks. The Saturday game will be played at the Cincinnati Gardens with the two teams here Sunday for a return game.

Gopher Cagers Get Help From 6-3 Newcomer

CHICAGO (AP) — Newcomer Dick Garmaker may have given Minnesota what it needs for the chase after Indiana and the Big Ten basketball title.

The 6 foot 3 inch junior forward scored 37 points Saturday night as the Gophers opened the championship campaign with an 84-72 victory over highly-rated Illinois. It was the best Big Ten scoring performance of the season.

Garmaker ranks sixth in Big Ten pointmaking circles headed at the moment by Paul Ebert of Ohio State, who has averaged 24.9 points for seven games. Garmaker's average is 18.6.

Indiana's defending Big Ten and NCA champs had their hands full with Michigan, winning 62-60 on Bob Leonard's last-second set shot. The Hoosiers' Don Schlundt scored 30 points, making his average for eight games 20.8.

Schlundt is in fourth spot in individual scoring behind Ebert; Illinois' Johnny Kerr, who scored 31 points against Minnesota and has a 23.8 average for 8 games, and Robin Freeman, Ohio State's sophomore guard whose average for 7 games is 20.9.

Only other clash Saturday as the Big Ten championship race began was between Wisconsin and Purdue. The Badgers scored a convincing 66-57 victory as Ron Weisner bagged 18 points.

Further evidence, pro or con, on whether Indiana has it again this season should develop tonight when Wisconsin meets the Hoosiers at Bloomington, Ind.

In other Big Ten games, Illinois is at Northwestern, Michigan State at Iowa and Ohio State at Michigan.

Gus Dorais, 62, Forward Pass Inventor, Dies

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP)—Death has come to Gus Dorais, through whose imagination the forward pass probably will live forever in American football.

The 62-year-old famed former coach died at his home just outside of Detroit yesterday. He was the little man who revolutionized football as a Notre Dame player in 1913 with his overhand forward passes.

Dorais, former University of Detroit and Detroit Lions coach, had been ill the last six months.

It was Dorais and the immortal Knute Rockne who introduced the forward pass—as it is known today—to football before World War I. They were the ones who also laid the solid foundation on which Notre Dame built its fabulous grid dynasty.

Dorais was the quarterback, the heady signal-caller, and Rockne the end on the Notre Dame team which went East in November 1913 to meet an Army team which was expected to name its own score.

But Dorais stunned the Cadets—and the football world as well—by throwing overhanded passes which led to a 35-13 upset. Throwing in his then unorthodox manner, Dorais completed 12 straight passes to Rockne and other Notre Dame players.

The forward pass had been used prior to this game but only sparingly and the ball was thrown underhanded, not at all like Dorais' long, arching passes.

Upon graduating from Notre Dame, Dorais, a slight 145-pounder, played professional ball for a brief period then embarked on a coaching career. He was head coach at University of Detroit from 1925 to 1942. He moved back into the pro ranks in 1943 as coach of the Detroit Lions. In 1947 he retired from football but never lost interest in the game.

NEW YORK (AP) — Rocky Marciano's opponent for a tentative Feb. 24 defense at Miami should be coming up soon now that Jim Norris is back from Florida.

Dan Bucceroni, Danny Nardico, Don Cockell, Nino Valdes and Ezzard Charles have been mentioned although Ezzy probably will be saved for a summer date.

Bucceroni gets a chance to help himself tomorow night at Milwaukee when he meets Hein Ten Hof, the veteran German, in a non-televised match.

Walter Cartier and Randy Sandy, a pair of New York middleweights badly in need of an important victory, open the week at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena tonight in a bout seen on TV (Dumont) in some sections of the country.

Joey Giambra, fast-improving Buffalo, N. Y., middleweight who now is No. 5 challenger, boxes Bobby Dykes of Miami on the Wednesday show (CBS) from Miami. Giambra stopped Jimmy Herring in his last start while Dykes, now a 157-pounder, has been fighting off the TV circuit.

Joey Giardello, No. 3 behind middle champ Bobo Olson, will try to take strong-jawed Garth Panter of Salt Lake City Friday at Madison Square Garden (NBC-TV and ABC-radio). Giardello whipped Cartier and Tuzo Portuguez in his last two starts.

The Saturday night show (ABC-TV) comes out of Miami where soldier boy Chico Vejar of Stamford, Conn. meets Pat Manzi of Syracuse, N. Y. in a welter go. Manzi's last was a draw with Gerry Dreyer while Vejar lost to Vince Martinez, Nov. 20 in the Garden but beat Pierre Hernandez at Miami Christmas week.

MSC Student Body Welcomes Victors

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—After a rough ride back, Michigan State's victorious Rose Bowl football team received a riotious welcome home here last night.

Today most of the players were on the way to spend some time with their families before starting the winter college term Jan. 8.

Nearly 5,000 Lansing area rooters jammed the Lansing Airport to scream a welcome as the big four-engine DC7 sat down with the happy Spartans at 8:10 last night.

After California, Lansing was a chilly and windy 26 degrees.

Coach Biggie Munn was due in later today after watching the East-West Shrine game. Game star Billy Wells flew direct to New York to appear on the Ed Sullivan TV show.

NCAA Sessions Open; Few Rule Changes Seen

CINCINNATI (AP) — No major changes for 1954 football, in either the television setup or the substitution rules, were in prospect today as the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. launched its six-day 48th annual convention.

The parent body takes no definite action on anything until Friday, but early indications were that, in the absence of any heated objections, the group would cling to the restricted television setup and the one-platoon style of play.

Some 1,300 of the nation's outstanding athletic administrators and coaches were slated to attend the sessions of the NCAA and five affiliated groups. Not too many were on hand today for Executive Committee metings.

The heavy action starts tomorrow when the American Football Coaches Assn.'s Rules Committee begins shaping up recommendations to be submitted to the NCAA Rules Committee at Sarasota, Fla., Jan. 11.

The coaches, who had the one-platoon plan thrust upon them a year ago despite their one-sided poll against it, are expected to offer only minor changes.

GOPHERS LEAP TO VICTORY. Two Minnesota players, Ed Kalfat (23) and Doug Bolstroff leap high to pick off a rebound in the Gophers 84-72 victory at Champaign, Ill. Bruce Brothers and Max Hooper, Illini forwards, fight for the ball.

Kramer Denies Net Interest in Cup Winners

NEW YORK —Jack Kramer, ex-tennis star, current promoter and future tycoon of the professional game, is interested in no amateur at the moment and that goes for Lewis Hoad and Tony Trabert.

"This whole thing is silly," the former American Davis Cup ace said today before sending his troupe to Madison Square Garden for the second session of their opening 1954 "tournament."

"Neither Hoad nor Trabert could hold a racquet to my players," Kramer said. "Right now I don't want them and have not sent out any feelers. Naturally, I'm on the lookout for new and good players for the circuit, but right now I'm satisfied with Pancho Gonzales, Pancho Segura, Don Budge and Frank Sedgman.

"Frankly, to my mind, youngsters like Hoad and Trabert have not proved themselves yet. Sure, if one of them makes shambles out of the major tournaments this summer, I'll be interested. What promoter wouldn't? But I made absolutely no contact with them to date."

Kramer, who thinks about as he used to serve when he was the world's leading amateur, is varying the script on his tour this year. Tonight, for instance, Gonzales will play Segura for the $4,000 jackpot of the two-night stand. Budge and Sedgman will play for the consolation prize.

In yesterday's opening round Gonzales, making a comeback at the tender age of 25, upset Sedgman 3-6, 11-9, 13-11, and Segura chopped down Budge, the undisputed rules of the game in the middle '30s 6-4,6-2.

"By running the show like a tournament every night we'll give the boys more incentive," said Kramer. "Last year everyone collected his guarantee whether he won or lost. Now the winner each night will collect the major share of the purse."

Fox, Williams Sign For Armory Event

Billy Fox and Scotty Williams will meet again for the Tri-State championship Thursday night in a re-match ordered by the Marion Wrestling Commission.

The bout will be one of three on Thursday night's wrestling card at the Armory.

In the other matches Jim Lewis will be pitted against Dutch Schultz and Ricky Waldo and Gino Angelo will team up against Sandro Fozo and Mr. Satan in a tag team match.

The wrestling commission ordered the Fox-Williams re-match after last week's bout ended in a "no contest" when the two met head-on and knocked each other out.

Bowling

Mickey Carpenter rolled 165-450 while Paul Rice hit 208 and Walt Keck totaled 567 to pace bowlers in the Mr. and Mrs League at Marion Recreation Sunday. Indians did 650-1875 for team laurels.

Ted Loyer's 203-519 showed the way in the Ladies Commercial League Saturday. Evelyn Foos turned in a 3-7-10 split. Marion Industries No. 1 with 751 and Mel's Jewelers with 2178 won team honors.

Damon Gorenflo's 193 and Frank L. Eiseman's 547 paced keglers in the Erie Railroad League. Team Five hit 855 while Team Seven carded 2434 for high team scores.

Cooler League bowlers were paced by Elmer Ferriman's 226-532. Team No. 8 with 842 and Team No. 1 with 2396 led the teams.

Bowlers in the Marion Recreation League Friday were led by Robert Baumgartner's 208 and George Caskey's 542. Farm and City Insurance hit 816-2328 for team honors.

West Defeats East 31-7 in Shrine Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Brilliant passing by Stanford's Bobby Garrett, equally clever running by Veryl Switzer of Kansas State and the brick wall staunchness of a line that was supposed to be cut to pieces gave the Western College All-Stars a 31-7 victory in the annual Shrine charity football game Saturday.

It was a stunning defeat for the East headed by All-America Johnny Lattner of Notre Dame before a sellout crowd of 62,000.

The East's only sustained drive developed midway of the fourth period, when they were behind 24-0. Notre Dame's Neil Worden went over on a 13-yard pass from John Gramling of South Carolina at the end of a 63-yard drive.

Jim Miller of the University of Wisconsin was the Big Ten's leading passer in 1953. He gained 683 yards passing and tossed six touchdown passes.

Action-Packed Week Ahead For Leading Cage Powers

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Basketball rankings are due for a shake-up when the ballots are counted in this week's poll but nothing in the past or on the immediate horizon figures to jar Kentucky and Duquesne off their lofty one-two perches.

Top-rated Kentucky has been idle since knocking 'sixth-ranked Minnesota out of the unbeaten class a week ago for its seventh win against no defeats. But the wildcats don't figure to drop lower than second place, and perhaps not even that, in the Associated Press poll.

While Adolph Rupp was giving his Kentuckians a rest, many of the nation's foremost teams fought it out in a wide assortment of tournaments. Duquesne was one of some two dozen tournament winners. And on the basis of their triumph in the Madison Square Garden Holiday Festival in New York, the towering Dukes could well supplant Kentucky at the top.

The towering Dukes beat well-regarded Niagara in the Garden tournament and then last Saturday smothered the University of Mexico 99-35. That was No. 11 in the Dukes' perfect string.

Kentucky has what shapes as two easy assignments this week. The Wildcats face Xavier of Cincinnati tonight and open their Southeastern Conference schedule against Georgia Tech. Both are home games for Kentucky.

Duquesne could well have a tough job against Dayton tonight but should have a romp Saturday at Johnstown, Pa., against St. Francis (Pa.).

Third-ranked Indiana (7-1), which opened the Big Ten campaign last Saturday with a 62-60 victory over keyed-up Michigan, faces two more conference opponents this week—Wisconsin tonight and Minnesota Saturday. Minnesota (8-1) shapes up as the Hoosiers' chief contender for the conference title they won last year.

Since being ranked fourth a week ago, largely on the basis of a defeat of Indiana, Oregon State has dropped two games—to Navy and Duke in the Dixie Classic at Raleigh. The Beavers can look for a decline in national ranking. They now have a 7-3 record.

The Fifth-rated Oklahoma Aggies, who strengthened their rating by winning the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City to run their record to 12-1, opens its Missouri Valley season at Wichita (11-1) Thursday and plays host to Houston Saturday.

Western Kentucky (12-0), the winningest major team following victory in the Louisville tournament, hopes to make it 13 against Murray State Saturday. Illinois (6-2), with an 84-72 defeat at the hands of Minnesota last Saturday, tackles Northwestern and Michigan State this week. North Carolina State (9-3), 69-65 winner over Villanova Saturday, has engagements Virginia Tech Tuesday and Duke Saturday.

Duke, winner of the Dixie Classic, and N. C. State figures to be the chief contenders for the Atlantic Coast Conference crown. And Fordham (7-1), ranked 10th, faces a busy week with New York University tonight, St. Francis of Brooklyn Wednesday and Army Saturday.

University of Oklahoma athletic teams are nicknamed Sooners. The name is derived from Settlers who took choice claims before the date set for the land runs of 1889 and 1893.

Russia Needs Ten Years To Complete Internal Economic Reform Program

Editor's Note—In articles printed earlier, William L. Ryan has reported his observations in the Soviet union. In today's concluding article, a summing up, he relates how the program the Soviet government has chartered for itself amid various pressures from its peoples, may hold hope for the West.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The Soviet Union needs at least 10 years to get its "two to three years" internal development program on a firm foundation. In this fact lies perhaps the world's greatest hope for peace that will last.

In that 10 years, there is reason to expect, Moscow will avoid any risk of involvement in a major world conflict, even while attempting to hold its gains outside its borders. But with the many dilemmas and contradictions facing the Soviet Unjon, with its present trend of development, anything can happen.

Much of the Soviet Union today is like the America of the turn of the century, flexing its muscle. In today's world its development is likely to be swifter. But it races years of road building, home building, machine production and transport development. The greatest obstacle in its way is the bureaucracy built up by the Communist party under Stalin. In order to approach successes promised, the government of Premier Georgi Malenkov will have to wield a willing knife against the red tape.

There is no end of confidence being expressed, high and low—real confidence that the job can be done. Soviet people are looking anxiously but demandingly to Moscow and the "new government."

Some diplomats think it possible this government feels it can drain off some of the vast expenditures for army and armaments energy and new powerful weapons. Such a course would release much needed material and manpower for the consumer program. But the attitude of the Soviet army, more and more a power in today's Moscow, is a big question mark.

At any rate, the turning inward for which many in the West had hoped seems to be taking place. Along with this development comes a series of contradictions and dilemmas. Here are some:

1. While avoiding major war, the Moscow regime cannot afford peace in the non-Communist sense of the word. It has experimented and found it still needed the ferocious enemy at the door.

2. But, while telling the people on the one hand that they are threatened by an outside enemy armed to the teeth and ready to strike, the regime also tells them to make more refrigerators and vacuum cleaners, household goods and clothing, passenger automobiles and radios. Such propaganda could produce skepticism. People might logically expect to be told they must tighten their belts and make weapons if an enemy is at the gates.

3. Having promised the better life and advertised it so broadly and constantly, the new regime will be obliged to make some semblance of a delivery. It no longer has the absolute central power of the Stalin dictatorship, and its police arm has been weakened by the furious blood purge of Laventry Beria and the MVD. For the program to succeed, something must give way. Does the U.S.S.R. dare decrease its heavy industry production, its munitions production or its armed forces?

4. The Moscow regime seems to have no intention of giving up its hold on that part of the world it now dominates. But this continues to drain manpower and resources needed on the home front. Already there is as severe manpower shortage.

5. The regime seems to have no intention of veering away from its policy of supporting Communist activities abroad, of encouraging chaos and rebellion. Yet, in so doing, it increases the danger of open conflict which it cannot afford.

6. While promising communism, the regime actually is moving away from the Leninist path, even as its big neighbor, China, is struggling toward the Leninist goals. Already there is a vast sector of the Soviet population which can be considered middle class, with private property instincts and the determination to pass on to following generations what it has accumulated.

The twin calamities of Stalinism and World War II held down the economic growth of the vast, rich and powerful country. The possibilities are all there. Industrialization, electrification, mechanization of agriculture have built a foundation. In the way stands the Soviet Communist bureaucracy plus the obsession with tremendous military strength.

The Soviet Union built great factories and electric power projects, canals and irrigation networks under Stalin. But it neglected the consumer side of the economy. This could prove an Achilles heel in any international test of strength, as it almost did in the last war.

In order to give the country the resiliency to withstand a shock of major proportions, the collective regime under Malenkov must strengthen this weak link. But in so doing, it builds a threat to the Communist party. The middle class, acquiring more of the world's goods, will have more to lose by the threat of war. In acquiring more it will demand more. The middle class has little in common with revolutionary Bolshevism and little taste for throwing away its gains for the glory of the World Revolution.

There is still another factor. Although there is vast ignorance on the part of the Soviet people about the Western world, the barriers already have been pierced. In order to take advantage of Western methods, it has been necessary for the Soviet Union to expose a large number of educated persons to Western influences. Evidences that the Soviet Union copies American ways can be seen on the streets of any Soviet city.

All these things add up to hope for the world—hope that the present state of war without guns will gradually develop into something resembling peace.

Five Generations Attend Marion Family Dinner

Five generations of descendants of Mrs. J. H. Andrews of Marion were among children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren who gathered for a dinner Sunday, Dec. 27, at the Gerald Weaver home at 583 W. Fairground St. The fifth generation descendant is the two-week-old infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pheasant of 441 Jefferson St.

With the child's mother, Mrs. Joan Pheasant, and the great great grandmother, Mrs. Andrews forming the five-generation group were the grandmother, Mrs. Opal Snyder of the Jefferson St. address and the great grandmother, Mrs. N. R. Rice of 635 Van Buren St.

They were among 42 relatives at the Weaver home for the special family gathering. Mrs. Weaver is a daughter of Mrs. Andrews who lives at 323 W. Fairground St. The great great grandmother is 80 and is the widow of J. H. Andrews who died Oct. 29, 1941. She was a member of a family of 13 children and has one brother living, Clint Shirk of Defiance. Ten of her own 13 children are living and there are 46 grandchildren and 49 great grandchildren. The great grandmother of the fifth generation baby is the mother of six.

Children of Mrs. Andrews besides Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Weaver are Mrs. Elizabeth Beltz, Mrs. Eva Condron, Mrs. A. H. Wilson, and Carl Andrews, all of Marion, Frank Andrews of Marysville, James N Andrews of near Marion, Elme Andrews of Peoria, Ariz., and Carl E. Andrews of East Liberty.

Crawford County Alumni Hear Tri-State Program

GALION—The Crawford County Alumni Association of Capital University, Columbus, recently participated in a three-state long distance telephone hook-up at the Peace Lutheran Parish House in Galion.

The program originated at Capital University and was sent to alumni groups in Detroit, Saginawl Mich., Ft. Wayne, Ind., Fremont, Galion, and Cleveland. The Galion hook-up was made by th local telephone company.

Following the program, a lunch eon was served by a local committee composed of Dorothy Plack, chairman, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. James Roser, Mrs. Philip E. Auer, Rev. and Mrs. Carl Wannemacher.

A business session was conducted, and Rev. E. J. Katterhenrich of Bucyrus was chosen president of the county group for next year.

Mayor of Bucyrus Begins Third Term

BUCYRUS Frank P. Sitler, a realtor, began his third term as mayor here at a salary boost of $50 a month.

Sitler, the only Republican ever to serve more than one term as mayor and this city's third Republican mayor in the past 50 years, was sworn in last month in a ceremony conducted by Attorney Paul Kennedy, a former city solicitor.

Others sworn in were Councilmen C. Victor Vollrath, L. B. Thompson, C. W. Ackerman, Fred Welty, Council President Robert Caldwell, all Republicans, and Councilmen Joseph Kaupp, D. D. Bibler and Fred Christman, all Democrats. Only new member of council is Christman, who succeeds Dr. James E. Frey, who was not a candidate for re-election.

New salary of the mayor is $3,600 annually. His salary was raised in 1951 from $2,400 to $3,000 when he ceased keeping fees in ordinance cases. A $300 raise was voted him last June, effective Jan. 1, 1954, when all city employes were voted pay hikes. Another $300 increase was approved by council in October to compensate him for loss of fees due to changes in state laws.

Mayors or police chiefs no longer can keep court costs on state cases but must pay them into the city treasury.

Coast College Student Admits Extortion Try

LONG BEACH, Calif (AP)—Police Chief William H. Dovey says a college student has signed a statement admitting that he attempted to extort $40,000 from four wealthy Long Beach families to finance his education.

Under arrest is Robert Wallace Moen, 23, described by police as a brilliant student at nearby Pomona College. He is held in jail on a booking of suspicion of burglary but Chief Dovey said it is planned to have an attempted extortion charge filed against him Monday.

Moen was caught after police set a careful trap last Wednesday night in the neighborhood where three of the families live. Chief Dovey said a dummy package was dropped at an intersection and a dozen detectives were hiding in the vicinity. Moen was arrested when he came along a few minutes later.

The chief said notes, threatening death, were dropped in mailboxes of the four families, the first one Christmas Eve. The notes gave instructions for delivery of the money last Wednesday night.

The notes were received by James W. Wood and Lester Callahan, millionaire oilmen; Elmer Decker, owner of an oil field equipment firm, and Ed Frank, a furniture dealer. Members of their families were threatened. The notes demanded $1,000 from each family.

Chief Dovey said another youth, James Chambers, 23, of Long Beach, has been booked on suspicion of extortion in the case and is being questioned.

Moen said he had lived in Des Moines, Iowa, for eight years before coming to Southern California four and a half years ago.

1953 Crown Goes to New Yorker

Duchess Gives Up 'Best Dressed' Title

NEW YORK (AP)—The Duchess of Windsor has lost her title of best-dressed woman in the world to an old rival for the honor, Mrs. William Paley of New York.

Mrs. Paley, wife of the head of the Columbia Broadcasting System, nosed out the duches for the first place in 1948 and 1949.

The duchess' fall this year was all the harder, as she almost slipped right out of the first 10. She landed in a 10th place tie with actress Mary Martin.

Results in the international poll, conducted by the New York Dress Institute since 1940, were announced yesterday.

Others on the current list:

2. Mrs. Winston Guest, socialite of New York and Palm Beach.

3. Mrs. Myron Foy, of New York, daughter of the founder of the Chrysler Motor Co. and wife of one of its chief executives.

4. Mme. Henri Bonnet, wife of the French ambassador to the United States.

5. Mrs. William Randolph Hearst Jr., wife of the publisher of the New York Journal-American.

6. Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, of Houston and Washington, U. S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

7. Mme. Louis Arpels, of Paris and New York, whose husband is in the jewelry firm of Van Cleef and Arpels.

8. Princes Margaret Rose of Great Britain.

9. A tie between Mrs. Henry Ford II, wife of the Detroit Motor executive, and Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, wife of the New York sportsman.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

COLUMBUS, Ohio —Paul Carmichael, 27, of Columbus, was charged with first degree murder yesterday in the fatal stabbing of Louis Smart, 34-year-old Columbus postal employe. Authorities believe Carmichael stabbed Smart yesterday during a fight concerning Smart's former wife.

TRUTHFUL MAN. Bee McIntyre, 33-year-old Richmond, Va., automobile mechanic, commented when informed he had won the Burlington, Wis., Liars' Club contest that "I always had the reputation of being a truthful man." Winning story told of a big wind which blew a cast iron pot inside out. His father is a minister.

Wyandot County Polio Fund Indebted for 1953

UPPER SANDUSKY — Wyandot County Chapter Treasurer for Polio Relief R. E. Culver has revealed that the local organization is in debt $3,056.90 for the year 1953.

The Wyandot County Chapter needs $15,009 to have a balance in the local foundation of approximately $2,000.

The start of the new year also saw the start of the 1954 campaign of the March of Dimes in Wyandot County. The campaign is scheduled to run through the month of January, with the Mother's March on the evening of January 29 climaxing the annual drive.

4 Oregon Men Drown, 14 Children Fatherless

WALDPORT, Ore. (AP)—Four men, the fathers of 14 children, apparently drowned on windswept Alsea Bay on the Oregon Coast, state police reported yesterday.

They were identified as Lyle Marion King, 44, the father of five children; Henry Lee King, 24, the father of three; Alton Robert King, 42, the father of two; and Loren McWhorter, 25, the father of four.

The Kings were brothers. The four left Waldport in a rented boat to a point across the bay. The boat was found on the beach upside down. Police believed heavy waves had overturned it.

Texas Boy Gets Wish

FORT WORTH (AP)—Barry Todd's 11th birthday wish was to spend the weekend at Ft Worth's swank Western Hills Hotel—and ride out with a police escort.

Barry, a victim of muscular dystrophy, got his request.

His parents provided a suite, police the escort, complete with sirens.

Bary held open house in his suite and returned home yesterday wearing a police cap given by the department.

Bucyrians Pledge $100 For Polio Foundation

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus Grange members have pledged $100 to the $200,000 campaign of the Magnetic Springs Foundation, a corporation organized recently to provide a clinic and rehabilitation center for polio patients in the Midwest, Grange officials announced.

The Grange, which is one of the first organizations in Crawford County to contribute toward the campaign, plans to raise the money through work of its home economics committee, which is headed by Mrs. James Krauter.

ACROSS THE COUNTER

"Few of us know very much about modern day cars," Pat Patrick said one day at our office, "That's why a new car is no better than the service it receives."

"True enough," I replied.

Pat continued, "If a car firm doesn't have good service facilities, it can't have my business. Likewise with complicated appliances—such as the TV set."

"And, you Earl J. Andrews know," Pat ventured, "I think the same thing is true with insurance. It is no better than the Service it receives."

"You took the words out of my mouth," I said with a grin.

"Your Agency has proved to me you're 'Johnny on the Spot' anytime any problem or question comes up on my insurance. You seem to like to help your clients. And you smooth out any difficulties arising from claims. In other words, you give good service."

Are Truckers in Rebellion?

Some day the lusty young trucking industry is going to need to deal with its neglected public-relations problem.

The need will become acute if the truckers go through with their present plan to stage a "whisky rebellion" against Ohio's new axle-distance tax.

They will precipitate a crisis in bad will.

Before these people stir up civil war on highways belonging to the sovereign people of Ohio, it must be acknowledge in all fairness that they are not of one mind in this matter.

Some of them are willing to abide by the will of the people as expressed by the 100th General Assembly when it made the decision to make trucks pay a higher tax for using the state's roads.

They shared in the legislaive fight against the axle-distance tax when it was proposed. They lost the fight. They now are paying the tax without a squawk. They are willing to abide by the law.

Other truckers are full of the yeast of rebellion. These people, through their various organizations, are perilously close to a state of conspiracy to thwart the law of a sovereign state by stirring up threats of trouble against other Ohioans at home and in other states.

Since Ohio motorists recall that these same people raised no complaints when the state gas tax was raised last summer as part of the same project to modernize Ohio highways, one conclusion is inescapable:

They don't care who else puts something extra on the line to provide better roads for passenger cars and trucks as long as it isn't the rebellious truckers.

Fortunately, there are leaders on hand who know how to deal with the tactics of rebellion.

Gov. Lausche is not terrified by the threats of the truckers. The Republican speaker of the House of Representatives, William Saxbe, has blasted them in a spade-calling statement. United Truck Owners of America, composed of owner-operators, has called the turn on a scheme to get truckers involved in a 10-state strike threatened by the Teamsters Union on Jan. 15 unless Ohio knuckles under the promises not to enforce its axle-distance tax.

Ohioans take a dim view of any terrorism or rebellion fomented in this state or against the interests or residents of this state by any kind of conspiracy.

The state has a clear right to collect taxes from the users of its roads. Any member of the trucking industry who so far forgets himself as to think he and his industry can afford to kick Ohio residents in the teeth on this matter is being shortsighted. He is asking for more trouble from outraged public opinion than he will be able to handle.

In Pennsylvania's infamous whisky rebellion in 1794 the point was proved that the federal government could collect a tax on liquor; but it had to be proved with troops dispatched by President Washington.

Ohioans hope it will not take troops to prove they can make truckers pay their share of the cost of the roads they must use and help to build in order to carry on an essential industry.

Social What?

The best thing that could happen to social security would be to get it away from the politicians and pressure groups long enough to see what it looks like.

Since that is out of the question, every man and woman who may be drawing social-security payments some day should try to look behind and beyond the scenic effects provided by spellbinders.

The Eisenhower administration's intention to broaden old-age benefits to cover all workers makes social security meaningful to every person who works for a living. Millions who have given no attention to the original Social Security Act passed in 1935 had better start to think about it now.

There are two main questions which never have been answered:

1. Is social security a privilege or a penalty? If it is a privilege, why not do away with the provision, originally inserted as a means of opening more job opportunities, that persons who want to continue to work after 65 cannot earn more than $900 a year?

2. Is the practice of collecting old-age taxes, spending them for government operating expenses and carrying the total expenditure as a trust fund inside the national debt financially sound?

It has been 18 years since social security became a federal policy. But after 18 years it still hasn't been decided how these two basic questions should be answered.

Preparation Period Over

By James Marlow

Ike's Program of Action Begins Tonight

WASHINGTON —In his talk to the nation tonight President Eisenhower steps across the line dividing his first and second years in office and two periods in his life.

By the calendar his first year doesn't end until Jan. 20. But his second year actually begins tonight with his broadcast report which is preliminary to the return of Congress Wednesday.

For Eisenhower 1953 was a period of preparation. The public, regarding him with high esteem and patient expectation, waited while he postponed action on some major issues and got ready the program he would hand Congress in 1954.

Now the period of performance begins.

Because of the wide differences in Congres on almost any major issue, Eisenhower will have to fight for his program.

Allan Nevins, a historian, in a recent appraisal of the administration in Nation's Business, a magazine published by the United States Chamber of Commerce, made this remark:

"Every true national leader has to take for his motto: 'I do not want to be liked; I want to be esteemed.' Our best administrations have been desperately unpopular in wide circles."

He used the administrations of Lincoln, Cleveland, Wilson and the two Roosevelts as examples, and added:

"If President Eisenhower thus far has shown a salient weakness, it is that he wishes too much to be liked. In the long run, the mass of the people admire a president most for the enemies he has made."

This observation may be acurate within bounds, but a course of action by which a president makes enemies of the mass of the people is guaranteed to make dead ducks of him and his administration

The same state of political extinction could be arrived at by a president through exactly opposite means: by being so anxious to please everyone that he made compromises that pleased no one.

So far Eisenhower seems to have made few, if any, enemies. But the truth of Nevins' opinion—that Eisenhower wants too much to be liked—will get more of a test in 1954 than in the year just ended.

He kicked a few shins with rubber-toed shoes designed to cause a minimum of pain and anger. In calling no names, he took out insurance deliberately or not, against being called names in turn. And he still wore the armor of his immense popularity.

He had some practical reasons for sticking to his policy of patience, restraint, and mildness: with Congress so evenly divided between both parties he'd need help from men on both sides to put his program acros.

Moreover, nothing could have tarnished his luster so quickly as a few cat and dog fights with a politician.

It's possible he can pursue that policy through the four years of his administration, get his program through as he wants it, make no enemies, and have to endure no personal attacks. But it isn't likely.

Voices of America

By TRUMAN TWILL

We, the voices of America, were having one of those speculations about how we'd run the Voice of America if we were trying to win friends for the U. S. A. and one proposal was to rely more on movies featuring that whats-her-name Monroe.

The idea was that there is a universal language which La Monroe speaks in six delicious flavors whereas all other forms of propaganda are closely limited in their appeal. As ideas go for the Voice of America, there have been worse ones.

Except for one thing.

As Americans, we have become so confident that ours it the only civilization worth living in that we forget we are only a handful of the world's teeming population—and an oddly assorted handful at that.

The idea underlying our civilization has universal appeal and merit, but the same cannot be said for the shape and form of the American way of living. Or, as Vice President Nixon discovered when he kissed a baby in Japan, some of our favorite pastimes are offensive in other lands. You do not kiss babies in Japan until they are grown up, and then you do not kiss them for political purposes.

You do not use firewater if you are a Mohammedan. You do not bundle up in furs if you are an African. You do not use certain words in polite society if you are an Englishman.

You do not bait your propaganda trap with dollies named Monroe if you want to reach first base in an international popularity contest. You pick your bait according to the animal you're trapping.

For the Slavs you use a square-headed, square-rigged Slavic cuite. For the Frenchies you turn on the oo-la-la and let it drip. For the Germans you choose the babes to whom they are accustomed and so on for the Chinese, the Eskimos and the Scandinavians.

But always, since this is about propaganda at the working level, you retain the American idea, which is still the only revolutionary force in modern society—the idea that the people are just as good as anybody and better than most.

No other nationality can make that statement. Even with all the exceptions which prove the rule in the United States, no other nationality even can claim it is trying.

The idea that the people are as good as anybody was made in America. It is put into practice relentlessly in America. It is dynamite wherever it is smuggled past the censors and into the consciousness of the ordinary run of people in other lands.

It is dynamite because it goes beyond even the universal language spoken by the Monroes of this world in six delicious flavors and express something men lack words to say—the desire to survive as individuals.

None of this, of course, had any place in aimless speculation about the Voice of America. It wouldn't have shown the proper respect for a lady who has had the good fortune to become the embodiment of female charm for a fleet instant in the march of time here in one art of the world.

But there it is. The only thing about America that has universal appeal is the idea of being free, not whats-her-name Monroe.

Chinese 'Invade' North Korea

By Martin S. Hayden

WASHINGTON—A new Chinese "invasion" of North Korea is under way.

Reports reaching Washington tell of a mass of Chinese peasants, armed with plowshares, moving in to replace Red Chinese troops withdrawing north across the Yalu.

Apparent objective of the new tatic is to end the last pretense of an independent North Korea and confront the United Nations with a fait accompli—a new Chinese province, populated by Chinese settlers who would vote to remain Chinese.

IT IS CONCEDED here that word of the Chinese move may have influenced President Eisenhower's directive withdrawing two U. S. Divisions from South Korea. Certainly it has caused new American diplomatic evaluations which minimize both the likelihood of resumed Korean war shooting and the possibility of a reunion of North and South Korea under President Syngman Rhee.

Intelligence as to the new Chinese activity reached American negotiators at Panmunjom just before Chief Delegate Arthur H. Dean abruptly broke off the stalled peace talks. To Dean and his staff, the information explained Red stalling tactics and gave a new example of Chinese slyness in violating the spirit of the armistice pact while scrupulously observing the letter of its provisions.

According to information Dean has brought back to Washington, North Korea has already pretty much ceased to exist as a nation.

WHEN THE shooting began in June, 1950, there were 35,000,000 Koreans in the divided nation, 24,000,000 of them in the Republic of South Korea. In three and one-half years 4,000,000 of the one time North Koreans have fled south; 3,000,000 more have been killed either in the fighting or in wholesale Communist purges. Today only 4,000,000 natives, ruled by Chinese officials, remain as a basis for the Communist pretense that there is still a North Korean population.

Now, American military officials have learned, the Chinese settler army is moving south by the hundres of thousands.

"The new Red purpose seems obvious," one American observer said this week. "They are apparently rushing to re-make North Korea as rapidly as possible. Within a few months they hope to be able to invite in United Nations inspectors and show them (A) that they have reduced their troop strength to a minimum defense force and (B) that the population of the area is settled, peaceful and pro-Chinese."

For weeks it had ben apparent to Dean and his assistants at Panmunjom that the Reds were talking for time. In doing it they gave the tough Wall St. lawyer a lesson in hair-splitting and legalized dalliance. The Red negotiators did not just filibuster with time-consuming harangues; rather, they presented whole series of well-reasoned legal arguments which they documented with quotations of past American precedents.

FOR EXAMPLE, the Reds quoted from Franklin D. Roosevelt to "prove" that Russia has been a legal neutral in the Korean fighting. When Dean argued that Russia was the real aggressor and the supplier of the Red war tools, the Communists countered with a playback of the Roosevelt deal of 1940 wn which the late president contended the U. S. was still a war neutral despite its deeding of 50 over-age destroyers to the British.

Confronting Dean at the two-footwide conference table were two top Chinese representatives whom he has since described as "as able a pair as I ever met." One, Wang Huang-hua, counselor of the Chinese foreign office, was once the favorite student of the former U. S. ambassador to China and Yenching University president, John Leighton Stuart. During World War II Wang was a U. S. Army liaison officer.

Wang's chief negotiating assistant was Piu Shoa-ch'ang, who throughout the parley maintained a pretended inability to understand English, this despite the fact that American representatives knew him as a PhD graduate of Harvard.

NOW REPORTED from the closed conference tent is an example of how the Chinese often used gentle "ribbing" in an attempt to disconcert the U. S. spokesmen. Dean one day was arguing America's insistence that Russia must be present as a belligerent at the final peace conference and sign the pact so that the U. S. could be sure of its position.

As Dean talked, one Chinese negotiator ostentatiously read, and held up so Dean could see it, a copy of a New York paper. Before Dean's eye as he argued was a headlined story on a statement by Sen. Knowland (R., Calif.) The headline read: "Knowland says Russians never kept any agreement."

Further complicating Dean's job was the fact that in the written Chinese language there are no such things as sentences with qualifying clauses and phrases. Consequently the Chinese draft of a treaty must be a generalized document. When questions arose as to China's observance of past agreements, Wang and P'U invariably insisted on judgment based on the Chinese text which supported any conclusion a Philadelphia—or Chinese—lawyer might draw from it.

Such an interpretation of the armistice agreement justifies the current Chinese strategy in North Korea. The armistice said specifically that the combatants could not reinforce their armies during the truce with fresh troops; it said nothing about changing the manpower balance with an influx of farmer settlers.

Laws Have Their Limits

By MARK DANA

The proposal of Senator William Langer, North Dakota Republican, to have it made a federal offense for a father to leave his home state to avoid a court order requiring him to support his children, is aimed primarily at what the senator terms "parental delinquency."

The Senate judiciary chairman feels sure that bad parents tend to have bad children, that wayward fathers especially are a cause of juvenile delinquency, and that to permit a deserting parent to be apprehended across his home state line would help a great deal.

Perhaps so. Yet the senator's basic points about parental badness seem more valid than his perception of a remedy in following a neglectful father or mother into another state. In fact it commonly is agreed, and often stated, that parents usually are to blame when their children become vandals, thieves, joy riders, trespassers, worship disturbers or the garden variety of plain little devils.

It seems unlikely that any additional legislation could force a parent to remain at home, or by punishment to insure that he would be a better parent. A father may run away from his children simply because they are troublesome, even though his own laxity, lack of discipline, faulty example, neglect of paternal duties and such things made the children that way.

To be sure, one can argue reasonably that no child is fundamentally bad. Willful, stubborn, selfish, hot-tempered and such things, perhaps, but amenable to proper guidance and in fact requiring proper guidance, which usually means strict discipline.

Who but a parent is responsible to provide that? Let a father or mother neglect such duties, and a "juvenile delinquent" is almost automatic, no matter how many laws are on the statute books.

Explosive Well

OLIVIA, Minn. (AP)—The Francis Tisdell family is waiting for its water well to blow its top again.

The well has been "exploding" about once a month since January. Some of the first blasts all but wrecked the wellhouse.

Dr. George A. Thiel, chairman of the University of Minnesota geology department, says the explosions are from marsh gas that bubbles up from peat beds locked in the ground.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Robot Auto

Dave Sarnoff's RCA Research Center at Princeton has come through with an auto that can be run without the touch of a human hand. (We thought, from our highway observations, that they were being run that way all the time.)

The Princeton auto steers itself, stops as it approaches a metal object, turns out to pass a slower moving war and otherwise operates with nobody in it. It's all done by electronics.

Looking down on the main highway from a tree, this seems to us to be just what the average autoist has been waiting for: A chance to run a car without the slightest feeling of personal responsibility. . . the opportunity to move at the highest speed between two given points without using the head.

We don't know what Mr. Sarnoff is after. He may be simply delving into the wonders of the electronic age; on the other hand, he may have concluded, with most of us, that there is no use continuing on with the absurd notion that an auto controlled by human beings is safe. Driving gets more murderous by the minute all over the land.

Automobile makers realized some years back that there is nothing in the idea people are intelligent enough to operate a car and have been busy equipping models with so many mechanical devices that, even now, the man or woman at the wheel might as well have "stood" in bed.

Sarnoff's streamlined, self-winding, self-made, self-directed superdooper imperial eight-cylinder ghost and electronics special stirs the imagination.

We have always wanted a car that would call for us and go home by itself if we tired of a late party.

We are not so sure about the business of "stopping when it approaches a metal obstacle" without even a hint from the driver or a cry of "hey, what the . . . !" "Metal obstacle" must mean another auto or railroad train.

We haven't had much trouble with other metal obstacles although hydrants have bothered us now and then, and we once tried to drive a car into the slot in a mail box.

Turning out when approaching a slower car is an electronic triumph, of course, but we hope Mr. Sarnoff, knowing motorists' habits, isn't asking too rigid a behavior pattern and includes an electronic device that can sort of incinerate the driver of the other car and hurl a few dirty remarks at him.

An electronic sneerer would seem possible.

The car "steers itself along a prescribed route." Fair enough. That's a need of the era. So many of them, when run by human hands, take wrong detours, invade the sidewalks and even crash into stores and homes.

It could be, however, that real safety will never be achieved until Elmer Twitchell completes his work on the electronic building. It steers itself out of the path of onrushing non-electronic motor trucks.

Mr. Twitchell has abandoned efforts to develop the telegraph pole that strikes back.

Marines Pitch Reenlistment Talk at Wives

By RUTH COWAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tip to Marines.

If your wife begins a sales talk on why you should re-enlist, ask her if she has received a pamphlet "Consider Your Baker's Dozen" from the captain of your company.

Many Marine wives on bases throughout the world are receiving through the mail this pamphlet which gives 13 reasons why their husbands should sign up for another hitch.

It's part of a new type of recruiting campaign.

It is based boldly on selling Mama on the idea that Papa should remain in the corps instead of "giving it a try on the outside" among civilians where the going could be a bit tough.

Among the advantages enjoyed by the Marine wife and her husband are listed "steady income," "real security," "interesting travel and plenty of variety," "excellent recreational facilities" and "a well founded social life."

The 13th of the baker's dozen is that the Marine's wife, too, "is performing a duty to your country. This is a feeling which can bear no price tag. It is an emotion understood only to a woman who belongs with a man in the military service."

The Marine Corps soon will lose several thousand draftees and it is hoped to get the corps back on an all-volunteer basis—the proud Marine boast.

Jeweled Sweaters Need Extra Care

NEW YORK (UP) — Jewelled sweaters, top fashion these days, require extra care in laundry.

Laundry experts say that before sweaters decorated with pearls, rhinestones are dunked in suds, all detachable parts should be removed. Button cardigans to keep them from stretching. If the sweater has a wide neckline not trimmed with ribbon binding or piping, run a basting thread around the neck to hold the shape.

Squeeze suds through the jewelled sections first, and to prevent snags keep the jewelled part from resting on the rest of the sweater. Once the jewelled section is washed, squeeze the suds through the rest of the garment.

Use lukewarm water for washing and rinsing woolens. Orlon can stand water a little hotter. After rinsing, roll the sweater in a turkish towel to remove excess water.

Reds in India Plan To Build Guerrilla Force, Agents Say

MADURA, India (AP)—Government intelligence officers say India's Communist party has drawn up secret plans to build a Red guerrilla force along the nation's northern borders while publicly pledging itself to seek parliamentary power without bloodshed.

The officers said last night they had "definite evidence" such a scheme was part of the unpublished portion of a program adopted by the third Indian Communist Congress before its adjournment here yesterday.

These sources reported that the Reds planned to organize "militant units' in states bordering east and west Pakistan under the guise of a defense force against that country. This would take advantage of Indian antipathy toward the Islamic neighbor and recent bitterness over reports the United States might furnish Pakistan arms aid.

Laniel Forces Showdown on Cabinet Crisis

PARIS (AP)—France woke up today to the prospect of a possible government crisis this week. Premier Joseph Laniel announced he would ask Parliament on Wednesday to confirm his government or kick it out—well in advane of the Big Four foreign ministers, Berlin meeting.

Laniel's Cabinet is due to resign Jan. 17 because of the inauguration the day before of President-elect Rene Coty but the premier decided to force a showdown at once on how France would be represented when the Big Four met Jan. 25.

Over the weekend he offered his resignation to outgoing President Vincent Auriol, saying a Cabinet crisis the week before the Berlin conference might prevent France from being effectively represented. Auriol refused the resignation.

In another letter to Auriol last night, Laniel called a special session of the National Assembly and the Council of the Republic (senate) for Wednesday "to hear a governmental statement."

Laniel said only that the statement would be a broad declaration of his Cabinet's foreign policy, and that he would ask the Assembly for a vote of confidence on it. If defeated, he would have to resign.

Senator Burke Will Be Sworn in Wednesday

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sen. Thomas A. Burke last night returned to Washington where he will be sworn into office when Congress convenes Wednesday.

The former Cleveland mayor said he had a "slight case of jitters" over assuming responsibilities attached to the post, but declared he would begin by "feeling my way and giving everything I have to the job."

Burke, a Democrat, was appointed by Gov. Frank J. Lausche to fill the vacancy created by the death of Sen. Robert A. Taft, a Republican. He will be sworn in by Vice President Nixon.

The new senator has been on the federal payroll since mid-November and has spent much of the time since then in Washington.

Marion Churches Begin 4-Month Religious Drive

Four Methodist congregations of Marion are joining this month in the beginning of the Methodist Bishops' Church Attendance Crusade and Festival of Faith which will continue through Easter.

Slogan for this nation-wide denominational emphasis is "Give God a Chance, Now." Pastors will preach on the same sermon topics each Sunday during the period which was set for observance by the more than 15,000 Methodist Churches in this country from New Year's Day to Easter Sunday. Services of communion were scheduled for the first Sunday of the new year.

Stating "With a consciousness of the obligation of the church to that larger number of children, youth and adults who do not attend regularly," the Council of Bishops outlined the purposes of the special crusade.

The were listed as being designed to "strengthen the spiritual life of a countless number of members of the church; stimulate many thousands of church members to begin the regular habit of church attendance; enlist a vast number of 'unchurched' people as prospects for commitment to Christ and His church; "undergird the stewardship advance by encouraging church members to attend church and Church School; and give encouragement to the endeavor to reach youth in large numbers for the church.

Pastors here who will carry out the program arranged include Rev. Walter C. Eyster, Epworth Church, Rev. Fletcher E. Shoup, Prospect Street Church, Rev. W. Lincoln Stafford, Wesley Church, and Earl N. Hale, Asbury Church.

The sermon topics for the period through Easter include on succeeding Sundays, Jan. 10-31, "We Believe in the 'Warm Heart' and the 'World Parish' "; "We Jesus Christ"; and "We Believe in Jsuh Christ"; and "We Believe in the Holy Spirit."

For February, the sermon themes continue, "We Believe in the Bible"; "We Believe in Man"; "We Believe in Salvation from sin"; and "We Believe in New Life."

The March subjects are "We Believe in Christian Experience"; "We Believe in Christian Love"; "We Believe in the Church"; and "We Believe in the Kingdom of God."

Concluding three Sundays of the crusade in April will have as the message emphasis "We Believe in the Christian Witness"; for Palm Sunday, "We Believe in Divine Judgment"; and on Easter Sunday, "We Believe in Eternal Life."

German Held 7 Years

Writer Tells of Brutality In Russian Prison Camp

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN (AP)—A young German journalist who spent almost seven years in Soviet captivity said today a drunken Russian guard wantonly sprayed the compound of a camp with bullets and killed three inmates last Sept. 25.

The incident occurred, he said, at the Tapiau camp in East Prussia, former German state now incorporated in the Soviet Union.

Werner Hemm, 29, who came back to Berlin shortly before Christmas with other repatriates, said he was in the camp at the time of the shooting. Arrested in East Berlin in Feburary 1947, Hemm was sentenced to 10 years as a saboteur. He said the only basis he could think of for the charge was that the Russians one time forced him to sign a pledge he would work for them as an undercover agent, a promise he never kept.

Hemm described life in Russian camps as one long round of "damp, black bread, salted cabbage," illness and death. The shooting at Tapiau was the only outbreak of such vicious violence he saw, but he added there were constant grapevine reports of similar occurrences elsewhere.

At the Kargopol slave labor camp in the Soviet Union, Hemm said he met a Norwegian who described himself as a former Communist who fled his native land when the Germans occupied it early in World War II and was given 15 years for "illegally entering" the Soviet Union.

One of Hemm's first acts in Berlin was to look up an American, Leland Towers, who was released by the Russians this week. They met in the Simka camp at Ustvim early last year.

Towers, a merchant seaman and self-styled former Communist, went to the Soviet Union without permission in 1951, crossing the Finnish frontier. He drew three years for illegal entry and told a news conference after he arrived here that he was cured of communism.

Towers said he wants to work out some way to return in order to fulfill an oath he swore in prison camps. He said he saw a number of Spanish prisoners and promised them he would go to Spain, if he ever got the chance, to report their plight.

The robber said just hand over the paper money. Mis Jones gave him some $1 bills.

Reunited in Tokyo Hospital

Released Pow, Jap Wife Plan Second Honeymoon

(Picture on Page One)

TOKYO (AP)—Cpl. Claude Batchelor and his Japanese wife Kyoko happily planned a second honeymoon and an evening of dancing at a Japanese night club when they had a two-hour reunion at Tokyo Army Hospital today.

Kyoko's love letters played an important part in Batchelor's decision to ask repatriation from a pro-Red prison compound in Korea. She said she planned to write tonight, at her husband's request, to three other Americans who stayed with the Communists.

Batchelor arrived here yesterday after renouncing his decision to stay with the Reds. He and his wife were together for four hours soon after his arrival at the hospital and she returned for a two-hour reunion today.

Kyoko said her husband will be given a pass Wednesday and plans to have a dark blue suit made to take her dancing.

Then, she said, they plan to visit a resort for a second honeymoon.

She said they discussed plans and decided to visit Batchelor's parents in Texas, then decide where to live.

"Personally, I think he will want to come back to Japan," she said.

Batchelor asked his wife whether she had written letters to three American prisoners he said might be persuaded to return home.

"I answered no, that I stayed awake last night thinking about what to write them," Kyoko said. "He said 'Okay, there is no big hurry.' But I think I will write tonight."

Batchelor asked his wife not to tell the names of the three Americans.

"One has a wife in the United States, one has a mother there and one is a lone person with no family," she said. "I sugested I write to the lone guy that my sister is pretty and would like to meet him. He laughed and said okay."

Red Chinese Release U.S. Businessman

HONGKONG (AP) — An American just released from a Communist Chinese jail said today Red officials want to free dozens of foreign prisoners but think they can't leave China because their passports have expired.

Arnold Kiehn, 44-year-old China-born American businessman who reached Hong Kong yesterday after three years in a Shanghai jail, said the Reds hold more than 100 foreign prisoners—including some Americans.

Kiehn said he was certain the Reds would release other prisoners if their governments would obtain Hong Kong transit visas for those whose passports had expired.

Kiehn, who was jailed on trumped-up charges in 1950, told an amazing story of his sudden release:

"The prison commandant said he was willing to release me if I could get a Hong Kong entrance permit. He doubted I could get one.

"He let me visit the British consulate in Shanghai and I was back with a visa in 40 minutes. That clinched it."

"He actually thought that because my passport had expired I couldn't travel on it."

Kiehn said the best plan would be to send visas to a foreign organization or individual in China for forwarding to the Red government.

sales and service policies of Osgood-General, the company announced. Heavy-duty three-quarter-yard crawler mounted machines, 20 and 25 ton truck crane and one-man Mobilcranes will continue to be produced at the General Excavator factory.

Crawler mounted machines and heavy-duty Mobilcranes will still be made at the Osgood plant.

The Osgood Co., originally founded by J. C. Osgood in 1852 and bearing the oldest name in the power crane and shovel industry, was reorganized in 1928. At that time the Commercial Steel Casting Co. became a subsidiary of the Osgood Co. This division furnishes the open-hearth steel castings for Osgood and General machines, as well as castings, both rough and machined, for other industrial users.

The General Excavator Co. was originally incorporated in 1926 and started operations by purchasing the Fairbanks Steam Shovel Co. plant at Marion.

Two Soldiers Placed on List Of Korea Dead

Parents of a Marion serviceman and the mother of a former Marion man were notified Saturday that their sons have been listed as "officialy dead in Korea" by the War Department.

PFC. DYE

They are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Orth, 443 Waterloo St., parents of Pfc. Karl Lee Dye, and Mrs. Ed Klemach of Saginaw, Mich., mother of Pfc. Guy M. (Bud) Schroeder.

Pfc. Dye previously had been listed as missing in action in Korea. He enlisted in the Army in September of 1949 and took his basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky. From there he was sent to Seattle, Wash., for transfer to Japan in March of 1950. On June 30, he was sent to Korea and was reported missing on July 16, during a battle in Korea.

Before enlisting in the Army, Pfc. Dye was employed by the Guy Roux Co. in DeCliff.

Pfc. Schroeder first was reported "missing in action in Korea" on Dec. 2, 1950, and along with others who had been missing was declared officially dead as of Dec. 31, 1953.

Pfc. Schroeder entered the Army in July, 1950, and left for duty in Korea in August, that year. He was with Co. D, 32nd Infantry Regiment of the Seventh Division and was last reported in the Chosen area in north Korea.

Surviving besides his mother are three sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Turner of Saginaw, Mich., Mrs. Mrs. Mary Valentino of 463 N. Prospect St., and Mrs. Margie Freese of 342½ S. Prospect St.

Work of Marion Man's Father Told In Program on TV

A true story witnessed by a Marion man was the feature of The Ohio Story television program last night over station WBNS in Columbus.

The man, Lora Lamborn of 234 Thew Ave. is the son of Dr. Levi Lamborn, a botanist, who is credited with raising and developing the first carnation in the United States. The Sunday night television program told the story of the development of the carnation by Dr. Lamborn and of his friendship with President William McKinley, who was so fond of the red carnation that he promised to adopt it as the state flower when he was elected governor and as the national flower when he entered the White House.

The Marion man still remembers the time that his father presented McKinley with the first American-grown carnation.

Ohio Northern Class To Begin Here Tonight

GOP Meetings Set To Design 1954 Tax Plans

Reed, Humphrey Carry Main Responsibility of Keeping Party Peace

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP) —Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) scheduled the first of a series of conferences today to try to fashion a tax program on which Republicans can unite for 1954.

Reed, chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, already has called for more and bigger tax cuts than the Eisenhower administration has been willing to accept so far.

Just how far the two men get in trying to reconcile their positions will largely determine whether tax issues will become a major battleground within the GOP in this congressional campaign year.

The 78-year-old Reed waged a spectacular but unsucessful fight last year against an administration request to extend the excess profits tax to last Friday, six months beyond its original expiration date. Both Reed and Humphrey, and their associates, say they are anxious to avoid another such head-on clash this year.

The administration has postponed final decisions on many tax questions pending the all-important conferences with Reed and others this week. This is one reason President Eisenhower will discuss taxes only generally in his State of the Union message Thursday, submitting a more specific program later.

bomber its ultra-long distance.

Delivery of the first production items of the Boeing B52 heavy, all-jet bomber is expected to start next fall. That plane, while lacking the range of the piston-engined B36, flies faster than even the medium B47. To compensate for the high fuel consumption of the jet engines, the B52 is being equipped for mid-air refueling from tanker planes, thus extending its range substantially.

Greater Power, Mobility

Presumably it was with these factors in mind that President Eisenhower spoke last week of "our growing national air power," which he said possesses greater mobility and striking power than ever before. In that same statement announcing the planned withdrawal of two Army divisions from Korea he warned that, if the Asiatic Communists should break the truce in Korea, in all probability it would not be possible to confine hostilities to Korea.

That strongly implied warning that American air power would be loosed upon the homeland of the Chinese Reds in event of truce violation was in marked contrast to policies expresed when the Korean War was at its height.

Top Air Force officials then advised both the Defense Department and Congress that it would be unwise to attempt bombing Manchuria. The reasons given were two: that in such an operation Soviet-made jet fighter attacks could be expected to cause heavy loss of U. S. bombers, and that there was a lack of profitable targets for the use of atomic bombs.

Picture Changed

But the Eisenhower statement presumably reflected a substantially changed picture. It includes these elements:

1. Full-scale production has been attained which could replace aircraft lost with modern, jet-powered bombers.

2. The use of jet bombers would reduce the percentage of losses to enemy interception.

3. If atomic weapons were used in strategic attack (and the administration has made it clear that would be done if circumstances warrant) fewer aircraft would be needed to produce the same bombing results. If fewer planes were sent out on a mission, fewer would be lost.

4. Whether a target is "profitable" is relative. It depends on the availability of bombs. Two years ago atomic bombs were still critically few. Today production of bombs, of varied type, has been vastly stepped up with increased discoveries of raw material and improved refining and production methods.

Eisenhower, in his address before the United Nations Assembly last month, commented that the development of atomic weapons has been such that they "have virtually achieved conventional status within our armed services."

New Secretary Is Picked by Lausche

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche today appointed Ray M. White of Millersburg secretary to succeed Ralph Locher who resigned to become Cleveland law director.

Reed smiled and told reporters:

"I take this occasion to wish the American people, and that includes the press, a happy and prosperous New Year and congratulate them on prospective tax relief."

The Jan. 21 date for submission of the budget message is the last on which Eisenhower legally can present it to Congress. The law requires that it go to Congress within 15 days after the opening of a session.

Thursday's State of the Union address will be carried by all TV and radio networks.

Tonight's 15-minute speech from the White House at 9:30 p.m., EST, will have similar radio-TV coverage, except that CBS radio will rebroadcast at 11 p.m.

White House sources were mum as to the nature of tonight's talks, but indications were that it would be devoted largely to a review of the national administration since Eisenhower took office 11½ months ago.

The President returned to Washington last evening from Augusta, Ga., where he and Mrs. Eisenhower had been since Christmas Day. While there, the President played a little golf but spent most of his time working on recommendations to Congress.

Besides the State of the Union message, these include the federal budget, to be submitted about midmonth, and a message on the national economy, now on the subject of partisan debate, which may go to Capitol Hill late in January.

Also, it was announced at Augusta Saturday, there will be five separate message spelling out in detail proposals for (1) tax law revision, (2) changes in the Taft-Hartley labor relations act, (3) a new farm program, (4) expansion of social security and public health benefits and (5) a revised housing program.

Will Need Support

With 48 Democrats to 47 Republicans 1 independent in the Senate, Eisenhower will need some Democratic votes to put over any controversial features of his program. Heightening the tension is the fact that this is an election year.

Already the agenda is studded with issues of great potential controversy: Hawaii statehood, the St. Lawrence seaway, a proposal to limit treaty-making powers, taxes, international trade and tariffs, Taft-Hartley revision, foreign military and economic aid, postal rates, proposals to make some wiretapping legal, the level of government spending, especially for defense.

In connection with appropriations, Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said in an interview yesterday the administration aims to balance the budget by mid-1955, in part by making substantial cuts for defense spending. He gave no figures.

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said the President's immediate aim is to hold the Treasury deficit in the year which starts next July 1 to three billion dollars. The estimated red ink entry for the current year is $3,800,000,000.

Center of Discussion

The state of the nation's economy, which Eisenhower will treat in the last of his three major messages to Congress, showed signs of becoming the center of considerable discussion when Congres returns.

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla) said on a Du Mont TV discussion last night that the new session faces bitter debate and the problems of a "dawning depression." Kerr said, "I think the recession is on," and he added that by the middle of January he anticipates that "even the administration will admit there are two million unemployed." The latest-official estimate was 1,400,000.

On the other hand, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said in an interview that the nation will move closer to a peacetime economy in 1954 with only a slight drop in production. Knowland, the Senate GOP leader, said he looks for less than a 5 per cent decline in total production from 1953, and he continued:

"I don't think you can find any economic depresion in that sort of a situation. I don't believe we ought to talk ourselves into any economic sag."

Howard McCurdy Elected Chairman By Commissioners

Howard McCurdy was elected to serve as chairman of the Board of County Commissioners for this year at an organizational meeting held this morning in the Courthouse. He succeeds Ray Reidenbaugh who served as chairman during 1953.

McCurdy is beginning the second year of his first four-year term as a county commissioner, while Reidenbaugh is in his second term. Luther Mitchell is the third commissioner.

In other business, commissioners re-appointed Walter S. Guthrie as clerk of the board for the 14th consecutive year.

Reidenbaugh was also reappointed to represent the commissioners on the Coliseum Board. Other appointments made by the board were U. E. Hootman as deputy apiary inspector for the county, and W. G. Gattshall as his assistant. These latter two appointments are subject to the approval of the new state agricultural director.

strength in Asia at a critical period in international affairs.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) has suggested an investigation of the matter by the Armed Services Committee.

Humphrey Critical

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), in an interview in advance of the briefing, criticized the Korean troop reduction along with other recent foreign policy moves, saying he thought they represented "extremely poor policy" as preparation for the Big Four meeting with Russia Jan. 25.

"We might have to make some concessions to get an agreement. But we should be in a position to lead from strength," Humphrey said.

The Minnesotan said he referred to recent announcements of reductions of United States military personnel in the Far East, and to plans to cut back American military and economic aid abroad.

West Europe's Sea Walls Hold Against Gales

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe's dikes and sea walls, age-old bastions against the raging oceans, stood strong and firm today after 24 hours of battering by gale-churned seas.

Anxious watchers, remembering when flood waters burst through the dikes and wrecked vast areas of the low countries and eastern England last February, sighed with relief as they watched the seas die down today.

In the Netherlands, where overnight water levels were the highest since last winter's floods in which 1,795 persons died, the situation was reported nearly back to normal.

But the storm which smashed the calm of Europe's winter with sudden force yesterday still raged in many places. Blizzards and heavy snow falls were reported from Scandinavia down to Italy.

In Denmark, the little Jutland town of Randers was flooded during the night by the worst gale in several years.

In Odense salvage workers toiled with sandbags to patch up dikes protecting the town from a nearby canal, which threatened to burst its banks.

The storm took its toll of shipping and sent tiny coastal vessels scurrying for shelter. The German freighter Traustein and the Greek tanker Leros both ran aground off the north Germany coast in a heavy snowstorm.

The British collier Foch Rose ran ashore at Shoreham, southern coastal vessles were reported missing in the overnight blizzards.

At Kiel, Germany, a blizzard that howled in from the northeast piled up water in Kiel Harbor, causing the worst flooding since 1870.

Autos and buildings were flooded. The water stood in a foot deep in some areas of the harbor section.

POWs

A short time later, however, Thimayya said after an NNRC meeting, "we will have to decide how this problem is to be solved. If there is a wide difference we will have to discuss what to do."

Reds Bitterly Opposed

The Communists are bitterly opposed to freeing the prisoners when the Jan. 22 deadline rolls around, demanding that a yet-to-be convened Korean peace conference decide their fate.

Hull told Thimayya the armistice agreement clearly points out that the explanations period ended Dec. 23—and that the prisoners be released 30 days later.

"We therefore cannot accept any alternate proposal," he said.

The 21 American, 1 British and 327 South Korean prisoners who have embraced communism presumably would also be freed as civilians the same day the anti-Red POWs are released.

concerned with the internal security of our country."

Seek To Develop Leads

"We have information and leads and we hope that Mr. Gouzenko may be able to assist us in our work. We're here to find out all we can."

Lemieux said no statement would be issued after the interview with Gouzenko. The Americans previously had agreed reluctantly to the Canadian government's demand that it should have control over what is published about the meeting.

election the German Communists would lose out completely.

2. Organization of an all-German government by the Germans themselves, the conviction here being that it would be established with freedoms and democratic safeguards.

3. Negotiation of a peace treaty to leave the new Germany free to follow any course it chooses. U. S. officials said they are convinced Germany would choose close association with the West.

Negotiated Merger

Russia is expected to insist upon formation of an all-German government by negotiation between East and West Germany, with elections to be held as a kind of second step and with a peace treaty to be negotiated with the resulting German government. Only in this way, in the view of Western officials, could the Soviets hope to perpetuate some kind of Communist power inside Germany.

Previous Russian proposals for a peace treaty would compel withdrawal of all foreign armed forces, a German pledge not to enter any alliance against any power which fought Germany in the last war, and acceptance of East German borders which would finalize Polist possession of extensive territories that were German before World War II.

The Air National Guard commander, a World War II triple ace, nipped nearly five minutes from the old record despite having to "coast" the last 20 miles to Idlewild Airport on an empty fuel tank. He credits "help from God" to the success of his transcontinental hop.

Twelve Arrested By Marion Police

Twelve weekend traffic arrests on Marion streets were reported today by city police.

Episcopal Bishop William Gordon Jr., 35, for risking his life to carry the gospel to Alaska.

Reporter Carl Rowan, 28, of Minneapolis for his articles and books dealing with racial bias.

Billie Sol Estes, 28, Pecos, Tex., for accomplishments in agriculture and real estate.

GOP Office-Holders In Ohio Consult Bliss

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican state office-holders today scheduled a meeting with Ray C. Bliss, Akron, GOP state chairman, ostensibly to agree on a candidate for governor.

A spokesman at GOP state headquarters said the meeting would be about 5:30 or 6 p.m. in a downtown hotel.

The office-holders agreed at a previous meeting to avoid contests in the May 4 primary election in order to present a united front for the Nov. 2 general election.

Invited to meet with Bliss, according to reports, were Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Treasurer Roger W. Tracy, Auditor James A. Rhodes and Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill.

Fire Damages Dormitory of School Inmates

Fire of undetermined origin caused an estimated $50 damage to one of the dormitories at the Marion Training School Saturday. It was one of four fire calls answered by city firemen over the weekend.

The call for help at the training school came at 8:21 p.m. while Central station firemen were supervising the Boy Scouts' Christmas tree bonfire at the old Forest Lawn school lot.

Lamoyne Green, Training School superintendent, said today the blaze apparently began on the second floor of the dormitory at the head of the stairs.

An investigation to determine how it started is still underway, he said.

City firemen from the Central and Mark St. stations arrived at the scene about eight minutes after they were called, but Training School firemen had the blaze under control by that time, Green said.

No loss was reported in any of the other three fire runs by city firemen.

At 2:45 p.m. Saturday Central station firemen went to the residence of R. E. Killinger at 340 W. Church St. when burning rubbish threatened a garage. At 6:18 p.m. last night, Mark St. station firemen were called to a grass fire in a vacant lot at Cayuga and W. Center Sts. caused by sparks from a chimney. Another grass frie in a vacant lot at Merkle Ave. and Underwood St. at 1:52 p.m. Saturday was extinguished by W. Center St. firemen.

Ike's Program

By George Sokolsky

The problem that has always faced government by the direct consent of the governed is that the political mind is too often more interested in obtaining the consent than in government. In a word, politicians want to be elected and re-elected.

SOKOLSKY

The nature of New Deal legislation is that both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman were involved in depression and war. Mr. Eisenhower, on the other hand, faces a condition of prosperity and a liquidation of war. At best, the New Deal was a protective against failure of a civilization; at worst, it was an attempt to produce a Marxist revolution without the consent of the American people.

President Eisenhower was elected not to continue the New Deal but to arrest its movement and to change the course. His slogan was, it is time for a change.'

MR. ROOSEVELT was so glamorous that a large element of the American people believed that he was serving them as well as he could in troubled times. They demonstrated this judgment by electing him four times to the presidency.

Mr. Truman inherited Roosevelt's errors of judgment and the consequences that flowed there from. He knew that Roosevelt had opened the door to a motley crew of subversives, but a partisan loyalty paralyzed normal repugnance for such persons. If Mr. Truman says that he rid the government of spies, subversives and queers, he should produce as evidence a list of those whom he dismissed prior to investigations by Congressional Committees and the scandals attending them.

MR. TRUMAN'S inhibition is a characteristic of one of the major weaknesses of representative government, for what is involved is a conflict between principles of life and being elected. Disclosure of the espionage apparati, of the operations of subversives, of the infiltration of government by a foreign foe would have defeated as it did, the party in power Mr. Truman's party. It would have been a repudiation of Mr. Roosevelt. So Truman called it a "red herring" and accepted the blemish. He issued his 1948 order sealing files that would have produced the truth.

The Eisenhower Administration faced no such responsibility and no such loyalty to individuals. It could have thrown out the spies, subversives and queers upon assuming office. In his first State of the Union message, President Eisenhower indicated such a purpose by saying that employment by government is a privilege, not a right.

HIS ADMINISTRATION was paralyzed by the civil service and veterans preference. It was again a struggle between principle and being elected. In each department of government, powerful pressures were exercised to keep so-called experts in offices. For instances, Herbert Brownell Jr., Attorney General, had it as his purpose to use the law to eliminate spies, subversives and queers from the government. He is ardent in anti-Communism. However, as his chief assistant, a politically conscious lawyer, William P. Rogers, was appointed, who weakened the cooperation between the Department of Justice and the Congressional Committees that had developed when James McGranery was Attorney General in the Truman Administration.

Similarly in the State Department, where a clean sweep would have been welcomed by the people, a paralysis set in even to the protection of un-American elements and the persecution of pro-American personalities in the U. S. Information Agency. This paralysis is inexplicable because John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, is a student of the Marxist conspiracy.

IN THE DEPARTMENT of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, the most competent Secretary of Agriculture in a generation, presides. He started to clean house with vigor. He enunciated a program of saving agriculture from its own errors and protecting the economy of the nation. Suddenly he was paralyed by the aggressive political pressures from self-serving groups. He has been fighting back with astonishing candor but not with too much success.

Most republics in history have failed on this one issue, namely that after the politicians have learned to bribe the people with bread and circuses, or to put it in current terms, with glamor and subsidies, the people learn to prefer glamor to principle; they learn to prefer subsidies to a sound economy. No nation can stand too prolonged a dose of these opiates. The heart, that is the moral stature, of the nation degenerates and dies.

This is our major political problem in this year 1954 and the Eisenhower program may meet it.

Probers Hit AFL

By Victor Riesel

By a strange twist, investigators of the lesser known Congressional Committees may have terrific impact on the voters when they go to the polls next November to decide whether or not to take Congress away from President Eisenhower. These probers, now scouring at least 10 states and the highest federal bureaus for subversives and racketeers, have been poured into the field by subcommittees of the Senate and House Government Operations Committees.

KIESEL

The Senate sub-committee is controlled by Sen. Joseph McCarthy. The House sub-committee will be run by Rep. Clare Hoffman of Michigan, who will take the floor of the House of Representatives early this month and demand the power "to launch investigation wherever union racketeering sticks up its ugly head."

Hoffman already is responsible for the indictment of 17 union chiefs for racketeering and dipping into hundred-million-dollar labor welfare funds. For weeks now, Hoffman has had two ex-FBI agents and other probers in New York, Indianapolis, Chicago, Minneapolis and Los Angeles.

IN MANY AREAS, the probe will reveal that politically active local AFL leaders have been mixed up in these rackets. In still other areas, the FBI-especially in New Jersey-has turned up AFL tie-ins with Longie Zwillman, one of the national Crime Syndicate's board of directors.

At the same time, many local prosecutors and police officials, such as Toledo's Safety Director De Angelo, are beginning to crack down on mobsters seeking to exploit unions. No doubt by the time 1954 runs through its first quarter, there will be a score of labor racketeering probes in the big industrial cities—and the exposures will neutralize considerable AFL political activity despite the battle AFL president George Meany is waging against the toughest of eastern mobs. And remember, the 1954 election is on the Congressional, state and local levels . . .

HOWEVER, the Democratic Party is expecting considerable power drives from Walter Reuther and his CIO colleagues who are planning some very modern electioneering this year. Most of this strategy will be discussed at a "full dress" CIO Political Action Committee confab in Atlantic City's Hotel Ambassador on Jan. 6 and 7. Reuther will be joined by some 25 of the CIO's top officials in these anti-Republican discussions.

A week later, Reuther and PAC director Jack Kroll will go to Washington for a unique political parley—all women. The PAC's national women's organizer, Esther Murray, a pretty, blonde dynamo, has called in several hundred housewives from around the country for a strategy discussion in Washington's Hotel Statler on Jan. 14 and 15. For two days they will devise plans which they hope will take from the Eisenhower camp the millions of women who voted Republican in '52. . .

THIS STORY has not yet been told about the recent newspaper strike in New York. Only the ringing of a bell kept this tale from becoming national news that week wherever papers were being printed. That bell rang just five minutes before the new American Newspaper Guild President, Joe Collis, and Arthur Rosenstock, president of the New York Guild local, were to enter John Lewis' private office, where they had a 4 o'clock appointment with the United Mine Workers chief.

Mr. Collis and his CIO union associate had come to Lewis' headquarters seeking financial and moral support. Just as they were about to enter the conference room at 3:55 p.m., the Associated Press news ticker bell rang announcing a bulletin—the strike was over.

However, Collis and Rosenstock briefed Lewis. He told them he had been ready to help financially—and then said that labor should build a $10,000,000 defense fund for use in big strikes. . .

JOHN LEWIS IS NOT permitting the powerful AFL construction unions to supply labor for his 10 new union hospitals. Instead, all construction men on these multi-million dollar jobs must be members of Lewis' own United Construction Workers Union, a UMW affiliate. . .

The National CIO has "regretfully" pulled out of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and ordered CIO unions not to participate in the Conference's work because of differences between the two organizations on the handling of Negroes. . .

Moral Re-Armament, which is attempting to win recruits inside American labor circles, has just sent a task force of 51 MRA gospel spreaders into Africa. They arrived at Lusaka, Northern Rhodesia, a few days ago to concentrate on the colored peoples unions there. The African Mineworkers Union chief, Lawrence Katilunga, warmly welcomed them. There is considerable distrust of Moral Re-Armament among U. S. leaders.

At the last CIO convention, Executive vice president John Riffe, second-in-command to Walter Reuther, was forced to renounce his close tie with MRA when other CIO leaders protested. Most U. S. labor chiefs want to know just where MRA gets its many millions of dollars for its new "religion" and why it's moving into labor. . .

ALTHOUGH THERE ARE depressed areas in the land, the U. S. Department of Labor has listings of jobs available for engineers, machinists, stenographers, typists, tool makers, die sinkers, machine shop workers and related skills. Forward your note to the Department, or to me, asking where these jobs are. . .

Predictions: There will be far more strikes in 1954 than in '53 . . . Wages will go up about $3 a week although there will be a 1949-type recession. . .The AFL will split with the CIO on the guaranteed annual wage. George Meany and Dave Beck will denounce the annual wage . . .A wide open feud will develop between the two labor blocs, one led by "conservatives" John Lewis and Dave Beck, the other by "liberals" Meany and Reuther. . .

Pandora's Box

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Time has lifted the lid on another Pandora's box—the year 1954.

Peek as hard as you will, you still can't tell for sure all that lies waiting for you in the darkness inside. One thing is sure. Hope is there — a great hope, the luminous possibility of more peaceful times.

HAL BOYLE

A forecast of lower income taxes is somewhat offset by another forecast that many people won't make much money either. The effect of this on the ulcer population is still unclear.

In some fields, of course, a man today is known by the ulcers he keeps. They are a form of income. The big problem for these men is whether it is better to take their worry pay in the form of one big ulcer or two small but active ones.

If the slight economic downturn now predicted does take place in 1954, it could have a number of side effects good for us as a people.

Prosperity that comes to a man too easily often makes him into a stuffed shirt, pompous, fat-headed and unappreciative.

Poverty creates its fair share of snobs, too, but never in such numbers as prosperity that comes swiftly and with little real sweat. Sweat rarely makes a snob.

The American people are medically estimated to be carrying around now more than half a billion pounds of excess weight harmful to their health. A doctor might say that most of this fat is concentrated around the waist. A philosopher would say there is even more unnecessary fat between the ears, and it is this fat that should be burned up first. A fathead is always more dangerous to an individual and to a society than a plump midriff.

There is some truth to the criticism of many foreigners that prosperity has gone to our head and we have too little sympathy for the hardships of less wealthy lands. It is true despite the fact we have freely given away more billions to other countries than any nation in history.

A forced tightening of our belt one notch in 1954 could do us some good as a people, spiritually as well as physically. No one who lived through the last depression could look forward with equanimity to a return of such hard times, but no such prospect appears in the picture for this year. We will go on buying our apples in the stores, and not from street corner peddlers.

But even a small increase in the unenployment rolls should remind us that the job we hold, though naturally far below our sterling merits, is after all a job—and a paying job.

The working man feels about his job during a recession like a combat soldiers does about his life in wartime—it never seems so important until it looks like he might lose it.

If the average man finds he has a few less dollars to toss around in 1954, he is likely to use them more wisely—and be more grateful for what he has.

That is the odd thing about gratitude. A thing taken for granted adds nothing to your happiness. But when you appreciate something at its true worth it gives a deeper meaning to your own existence.

Speak in Writing

CLEVELAND (AP)—Police had to hold a written conversation during a liquor raid here last night.

After a period of questions and answers, the bartender was arrested on a charge of selling liquor on Sunday.

The clubroom is rented by the Cleveland Assn. for the Deaf and all of those present were deaf mutes.

Notorious Jail Breaker Under Florida Guard

MARIANNA, Fla. (AP) — Officers mounted a heavy guard over 33-year-old Jese James Roberts, notorious South Georgia automobile thief and jail breaker, pending his federal arraignment today on a variety of charges.

He was scheduled to face U. S. Commissioner John H. Carter this morning.

The 6-foot-4, 265-pound criminal was captured without resistance at a Wewahitchka tourist court yesterday, but pulled a gun from between his legs and began firing wildly when an FBI agent and jailer began searching him at the Golf County Jail a short while later.

The agent said Roberts was being stripped and it was "more or less a desperation move—we were down to his pants and taking them off." Two shots were fired, no one was hit and Roberts was immediately overpowered, the agent said.

One pistol had been taken from him at the tourist court.

The FBI—and officers throughout the South—had been hunting Roberts since Dec. 20 when he overpowered a jailer half his size and broke out of the Greene County Jail at Eutaw, Ala., where he was being held on charges of forgery.

The FBI arrested Roberts yesterday on charges of interstate transportation of an automobile stolen at Eutaw when he escaped the jail there.

VALUABLE STAMPS STOLEN

MONTREAL (AP)—Thieves broke through a one-foot wall with a chisel during the weekend and stole a collection of rare stamps valued at $10,000 from a downtown store.

BLE Will Start Pay Hike Talks On Wednesday

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has agreed to bargain nationally starting Wednesday for pay increases from 139 railroads.

Members employed by 92 other railroads will continue separate negotiations while those on still another 13 roads will recess talks to await results from the joint bargaining.

The announcement by Grand Chief Engineer Guy L. Brown yesterday followed a vote by members of the independent union which represents between 75,000 and 80,000 rail employes.

Previously the union opposed national bargaining which was suggested by employers after the brotherhood announced it wanted a 30 per cent pay boost for its members.

The brotherhood said its members average $2 hourly now and that it wanted the increase for two reasons: As the union's share in the eight round of pay boosts since World War II and to reestablish differentials for skilled work.

The union holds its members lost the differentials during the past 20 years.

Among the 139 roads to be represented when joint bargaining starts in Chicago are the Atcheson, Topeka and Santa Fe, the Baltimore and Ohio, the Chesapeake and Ohio, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, the Chicago and Northwestern, the New York Central, the Pennsylvania, the Southern Pacific (Atlantic Lines), and the Union Pacific (except South Central Lines).

Among the roads where employes are standing by is the Youngstown and Southern.

One of Initial Issues Before Congress

Hot Scrap Due in Senate Over Bricker Amendment

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hot, wordy floor battle over the Bricker amendment on the President's treaty-making power may be one of the first disputes to engage the Senate in the 1954 session.

Majority Leader Knowland (R-Calif) said today he expected the amendment to come up for floor debate this month.

Compromise talks have been held intermittently between Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) and legal experts for the Eisenhower administration, which has strongly opposed the amendment. But similar efforts were made last summer and got nowhere and Bricker said after conferences last week he knew of no compromise in the offing.

If none is reached, the debate will give an early test of President Eisenhower's ability to control the course of the 1954 session—sometimes called the make-or-break session of his administration.

The Bricker amendment already is on the Senate calendar for debate, but it may be delayed more than a month if the St. Lawrence seaway and Hawaii statehood bills are called up ahead.

The Bricker amendment already has stirred up nation wide discussion with eminent lawyers taking sides.

The proponents and opponents cannot even agree on the terms in which the proposal should be described.

It's backers say it is necessary to limit the treaty-making power so that internationalist schemes cannot be slipped over on Americans in the guise of treaties which have the force of domestic law.

Foes of the amendment argue that it would critically weaken United States conduct of foreign affairs and immobilize the President in some fields where he needs freedom to negotiate.

The two key provisions of the Bricker amendment would:

1. Require that a treaty shall become effective as internal law in the United States only through legislation which would be valid in the absence of a treaty. In other words, it would take a law voted by Congress to give a treaty the force of domestic legislation, and Congress would have no authority to enact such a law if some provision of the treaty conflicted with the Constitution.

2. Give Congress power to regulate all executive and other agreements, aside from treaties, negotiated by the President with a foreign country.

Proponents of the amendment contend the need for the first provision stems from the section of the Constitution which states that all treaties shall be the supreme law of the land.

This section has been extended by judicial decision and state department interpretation so that treaties may now make domestic law which affects the rights of Americans, the proponents contend.

Bricker says treaties being drafted at the United Nations are particularly dangerous in this respect.

The opponents say this provision is the most objectionable one in Bricker's proposal. They argue that it would limit the treaty powers to those possessed by Congress in domestic affairs and thus would mean that action by 48 state legislatures would be needed to implement many treaties.

The net effect would be that the federal government would be unable to deal with other nations as an equal, the opponents insist.

As to the provision in the amendment on regulation of executive agreements, supporters of Bricker' proposal say that actions of former Presidents Roosevelt and Truman demonstrated the need for this.

These chief executives increasingly turned to executive agreements as a substitute for treaties and bypassed Congress, the proponents contend. Treaties must be ratified by the Senate; executive agreements are not submitted to either branch of Congress.

Opponents reply that if Congress undertook to regulate all such agreements, the President could not act with speed on urgent matters affecting the national defense. By the same token, the government could not deal expeditiously with hundreds of minor matters now handled by agreements, foes of the amendment say.

They argue that both Congres and the courts can upset agreements not in accordance with the Constitution or existing legislation.

President Eisenhower has made it plain he opposes the Bricker amendment as it came out of the Senate Judiciary Committee. Several of his principal Cabinet members testified against it.

The Truman administration took the same position when the proposal was before the Judiciary Committee in 1952.

However, 63 Senators joined with Bricker in sponsoring the amendment when it was introduced. Sixty-four votes would assure passage of the amendment by the Senate; a two-thirds majority is required and 64 is exactly two-thirds of the body. For the amendment to become part of the Constitution it also would have to be approved by a two-thirds majority in the House and then ratified by three-fourths of the state.

But the Ohio Senator makes clear that he does not regard all of the sponsors as committed to an "aye" vote.

Another proponent told a reporter he considered the chances of success doubtful in the Senate if the administration makes a strong fight against the amendment.

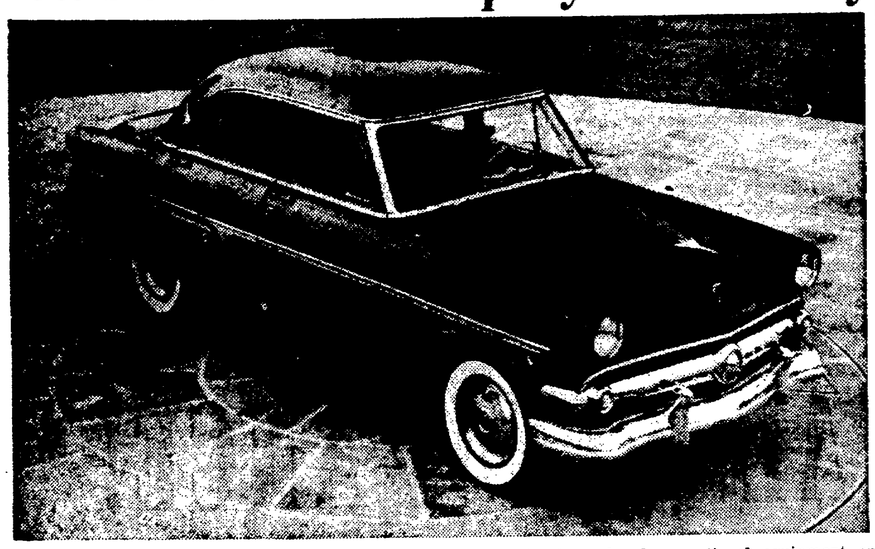
New Fords Go on Display Wednesday



NEW 1954 FORDS will be displayed in Marion Wednesday at Short Ford Inc., 274 N. Main St. Highlight of the new line this year is the Crestline Skyliner with transparent plastic top above the driving compartment.

Offering the illusion of riding in an open convertible, but with the safety of a hard top, the new plastic section is made of blue-green tinted material.

The special top is mounted on a weather-tight rubber seal and is framed with a metal molding. Adding to the illusion of the convertible is the absence of side pillars, permitting both front and rear side windows to be rolled completely out of sight.

Two new engines are available for all models of Fords this year. The customer can choose the new Y-block V-8 with overhead valves, or the I-block six cylinder engine.

Also new in the Ford line is the front ball-joint suspension which, engineers say, gives a smoother ride, makes steering easier, and reduces the number of front and lubrication points from 16 to 4.

Fourteen body types are offered in the Ford line this year. Besides the Crestline Skyliner, there are the Crestline Fordor Sedan, and 12 different models in the Mainline and Customline series. A fourth station wagon, the Customline Ranch Wagon has been added to the three Ford station wagons previously available.

Changes in body design include a new slant on the headlights, an increase of one-half inch in the height of front fenders, a new hood ornament, ad a strip of chrome running the length of the car.

A new speedometer is also featured. This is illuminated in the daytime by light passing through a transparent hood in the back of the speedometer, and at night by hidden lights.

Power-operated devices are offered as optional equipment on all Fords. These are power steering, power brakes, power seat control, and power window lifts. Overdrive and Fordomatic automatic transmission are also offered as optional equipment.

Interior patterns include 23 new upholstery selections of materials such as Craftweave broadcloth, vinyls, and woven plastics.

Exterior colors offer a wide range of choice, with a total of 13 single-tone colors, and 13 two-tone combinations.

New Y-block engines are said to give the greatest power advances since the original V-8 engines were introduced. Equipped with overhead valves, they feature a deep block, with a short-stroke, low friction, and high compression design. The new engines are 20 horsepower more powerful than the 1953 engines.

All models of the 1954 Fords are available in either the V-8 or six cylinder engines.

Slight Dip Seen During 1954 in Sales of Steel

2 Per Cent Drop From Record 1953 Volume, Executives Predict

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel production may drop about 10 per cent in tonnage in 1954, but sales will slip only about two per cent below a record 126.6 billion dollars set last year, Steel magazine concluded today from a survey of 5,000 steel industry executives.

This outlook is optimistic compared to predictions by many as recently as a month ago. It is based on a belief defense spending will remain at about 50 billion dollars and new plant and equipment expenditures be around 26 billion dollars, or 6 per cent under last year, the weekly metalworking journal said.

Steel said the 1953 output of steel for ingots and castings approximated 112.3 million net tons, compared with the 1951 previous all-time high for the industry of 93,168,039 tons. During the year steelmaking capacity increased from 117.5 million tons to 120 million tons, the journal reported.

In the next year or two, Steel said, "It's possible the steelmaking capacity may be cut down from its record high . . . At least 5 million tons of this capacity, and perhaps as much as 10 million tons, represents marginal high-cost facilities which can be operated only in time of peak demand," Bennett S. Chapple Jr., assistant executive vice president of the commercial division, U.S. Steel Corp. estimates.

But with the country's growing population and improving living standards, "any reduction in capacity probably would be only temporary," Steel adds.

Last week output rose 8 points to 78 per cent of capacity. In the Youngstown district, production climbed 15 points, but in the Cleveland area it slipped one-half point.

The Wheeling district held unchanged, but the big Pittsburgh district's production rose 5½ points.

The scrap market continued in a price decline, with Steel's composite on steelmaking grades easing to $30.83 from $31.33.

3 Climbers Snowed In On Mt. Hood Are Safe

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Three climbers, isolated overnight by a sudden storm on the snow-covered slopes of Mt. Hood, walked into Timberline Lodge yesterday.

Fred Hart, Corvallis, Ore., Art Maki, Ridgefield, Wash.; and Layden Walsh, Olympia, Wash., were apparently unharmed by the ordeal. They set out Thursday morning, hoping to be the first 1954 climbers to reach the peak of the 11,245-foot-high mountain east of here. When the storm hit, they waited out the night and made their way down the slopes by use of a compass.

11 Feared Dead in Crash Of French Army Plane

PERPIGNAN, France (AP) — A ground rescue team made its way today toward the wreckage of a French military transport on a snow-covered peak in the Pyrenees. There was little hope that any of the 11 French military men aboard the plane had survived.

The plane disappeared Tuesday on a test flight from Algiers to France and wreckage was later sighted

THE WALKY GAWKY... she shops on fiery feet!

A WALKY GAWKY is a customer who shops before she reads a newspaper.

She hot-foots it from store to store looking for the things she wants to buy — straining her eyes and burning up her shoes.

Fortunately the WALKY GAWKY is a rare bird — almost extinct. Because practically all women everywhere read their newspapers before they shop. It's easier on the feet that way — as well as the pocketbook.

When a woman picks up the paper, she's looking for all that's going on in her town now. In the stores as well as in the streets and schools. At the counters as well as at the women's club and the court house.

That's why people who have something to sell depend on the newspaper to help 'em sell it fast.

That's why the newspaper comes first — with the most advertisers who want to make sales fast!

All business is local... and so are all newspapers!

City Restaurant Operators Lag In Applications

Some leniency will be shown some 70 restaurants, fraternal organizations, churches and other such places in Marion where food is served which have not yet applied for a "Food Service Operation" license, Dr. J. T. Gruber of the city department of health said today.

So far 103 establishments have made application, he said, and estimates are there are some 70 more places within the city limits.

While no licenses have been issued to any of the applicants, they will be as quickly as sanitary inspections can be completed, Dr. Gruber said. In the meantime, all applicants may continue serving food. Those places which have not applied and continue serving are in violation of state law but no immediate action will be taken against them, he explained.

Also those places such as drive-in restaurants and imitation ice cream shops which are not open during the winter months must make application for a license 10 days prior to their opening date in the spring, Dr. Gruber added.

A large number of those places in the city which have not yet applied fall either into this category or are churches or fraternal organizations with only a few restaurants and sandwich shops included, he said. No decision has been made as to what action will be taken if these places fail to make application for the necessary license. Cost of the license in the city is $25 a year. Applications may be obtained at the city department of health.

By John Crosby

Farewell to Gerald Johnson

Gerald Johnson, the wise, not-so-very old man from Baltimore, has been cancelled as a commentator by the American Broadcasting Company. I'm not sure why this happened. The letter to Johnson simply said that there had been a reshuffling of schedules and that his program had to be dropped.

J. CROSBY

Perhaps, that's all there was to it. Or perhaps not. Johnson is a liberal; he is also a Democrat. Both are at low tide at the moment. About his political affiliation I have no thoughts, one way or another. About his liberalism I have.

It seems to me that the term liberal — and especially those who are tarred with that term — needs redefinition and possibly an entire change of scenery. It seems odd to me that the most "liberal" commentators — I put those quotation marks in there for a very good reason — have been forced into defending traditional values, which is essentially the role of the conservative, instead of espousing new causes, which is traditionally the role of the liberal.

JOHNSON, IN HIS brief tenure on the air, spent much of his time defending freedom of speech. He was against book-burning. He was violently opposed to innocent men being pilloried without due process of law. ("A great American," he declared, in one of the most biting of his broadcasts, "stated our doctrine in eight words nearly a hundred years ago; and there is no un-American activity more vicious than to reverse that doctrine, proceeding with malice toward all, with charity for none.")

Johnson, in short, was simply restating principles which the Pilgrim Fathers would have heartily agreed with, principles that are older than the Constitution (and embodied in the Constitution), as old as the first Thanksgiving.

In fact, much older. Edward R. Murrow has just won wide acclaim for his defense of Lt. Radulovich. It took great courage to take up the cudgels on behalf of the lieutenant. But why should it have? Murrow, in essence, was simply standing up for the right of a man to face his accuser, to know the charges against him, and to be tried by his peers — rights which were first laid down in 1215 in the Magna Carta, the godfather to all our rights as free men.

I CANNOT UNDERSTAND why a defense of these ancient principles for which our forefathers founded a new nation should be considered un-American or why especially those who are attacking our hard-won rights as Americans should not be attacked as un-American. But that's the way things are nowadays — topsy-turvy.

I liked Gerald Johnson's broadcasts for the clarity of their style and the sanity of their point of view. There is precious little sanity on the air waves and almost no clarity these days.

He was not handcuffed by any single cause or any party or any individual. He was as wont to praise President Eisenhower as to censure him; to censure ex-President Truman as to praise him. Most thinking Republicans, I imagine, could have derived as much comfort from him as Democrats. I think most Republicans and Democrats alike would have applauded his spanking of Rep. Scherer of Ohio for blasting at the churches for preaching "economic and political doctrine under the heading of social welfare and social justice . . ."

DECLARED JOHNSON: "I hold no brief for the clergy but I must say I don't see how a person can touch on social welfare and social justice without preaching economic or political doctrine, since most injustice is either economic or political. But the gentleman from Ohio is emphatic in his opinion that religious leaders should leave those subjects alone; otherwise they will lay themselves open to the suspicion of being under Communist influence.

This works out to an implication that social welfare and social justice are Communism. That, of course, is what the Communists have been claiming all along . . . It seems to me pretty bad business for an American to countenance that claim even by implication."

Fortunately, Mr. Johnson will be replaced on Jan. 17 by another voice of great sanity and clarity — Mr. Elmer Davis, winner of three Peabody awards, who has been sorely missed. But I think there should be room on the air for both men.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Some difficulty was experienced by the stock market today in maintaining slight progress.

Price changes ran about a opint either way with the plus signs maintaining a small numerical edge.

Railroads were higher on balance, and others in that category were coppers, golds, steels, and air lines. In the mixed group were the utilities, motors, motion pictures, aircrafts, and radio-televisions.

Higher stocks included Baltimore & Ohio, U.S. Steel, Chrysler, Kennecott Copper, and Pan American World Airways.

Lower were General Motors, Santa Fe, DuPont, General Electric, and International Paper.

Two Are Jailed On Charges of Drunk Driving

Two Marion men were fined and sentenced to five days in the Marion County jail when they pleaded guilty in Municipal Court this morning to charges of drunken driving.

Heaviest fine of $200 and costs was levied against Eugene E. Pine, 34, of 567 Thompson St. arrested early New Year's day by city police. Judge Hazen said he gave Pine the heavy fine because this was his second arrest on a drunken driving charge. He also had pleaded guilty to the previous charge, Judge Hazen said.

Glenn M. Gray, 21, of the Buckeye Trailer Ct. at 950 N. Main st. was fined $100 and costs. In addition to the fines and jail terms, the driver's license of each was suspended for three years.

In other action in Municipal Court this morning, Robert Leroy Littell, 23, of LaRue pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunken driving and his trial was set for Jan. 15. His bond was set at $150.

Ralph M. Craig, 53, of Mt. Gilead, charged with having physical control of a motor vehicle while intoxicated, pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs.

Robert E. Richards, 26, of 129 N. Main St. pleaded guilty to a warrant charging him with issuing a worthless check and was bound over to the Marion County Grand Jury under $500 bond. The warrant was signed by Earl Crowe, operator of the Sunset Tavern at Davids St. and Woodrow Ave.

William P. Hatcher, 38, of 141 Garden St., charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $25 and costs.

Claude W. Bunker, 42, of 227½ W. Center St., charged with resisting arrest, disorderly conduct and intoxication was fined $50 and costs when he pleaded guilty.

Ellsworth Williams, 36, who gave no home address, was fined $50 and costs on his plea of guilty to charges of panhandling and intoxication.

Springfield Fire Routs 278 Pupils 9 Teachers

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Fire broke out in the city's oldest school this morning, routing 278 students and 9 teachers. Flames shot up a ventilating shaft and roared across the roof as all the students escaped.

Winter clothes were left behind by many pupils as they poured from the two-story brick and wooden Western grade school.

The school, built in 1855, was to have been abandoned this year but construction of a new school was not completed for this term.

Since 1950, the U. S. Census Bureau has printed enough books about the census of that year to fill a three foot shelf and more books are on the way.

Payments Top Million

2,300 in County Share Social Security Benefits

More than 2,300 Marion County residents received about $1,156,440 in old age and survivors insurance payments during 1953, Paul D. Snider, manager of the Marion social security office, reported today.

The office paid out a total of about $2,249,652 to 4,747 persons in its district, which includes Marion, Delaware, Wyandot and Union Counties. The amount paid last year shows an increase of nearly 25 per cent over 1952, Snider said.

APPROXIMATELY 76 per cent of the payments made in Marion County went to persons over 65, the remainder being paid to widows with children under 18 in their care.

Snider pointed out that the above figures include only the monthly benefit payments and not the lump-sum payments which are paid in almost all death cases.

Snider said that according to preliminary estimates made in December almost six million people throughout the nation are receiving the benefit payments. That figure represents an increase of nearly 100 per cent since 1950 when Congress expanded the social security program.

—:—

ABOUT 40 PER CENT of all aged persons who are without income from employment or self-employment are now receiving benefit payments.

The old age and survivors insurance program is financed from social security taxes paid by employes, their employers and self-employed persons whose trade or business is covered by the law.

Social security taxes go into a trust fund which is kept separate from all other tax collections of the Treasury. The only expenditures which can be made from this fund are social security benefits and administrative costs. Assets not needed for current disbursement are invested in interest-bearing U. S. Government bonds.

—:—

DURING 1953 social security taxes amounted to four billion dollars. Benefit payments totaled 3 billion dollars and administrative expenses 90 million dollars. Interest on investments in government bonds brought in 400 millio dollars.

As of Dec. 31, the fund had total assets of 18.8 billion dollars.

St. Mary Hoopsters Triumph 40-33 Against Morral

Wildcats' Offense Falters; Irish Even Season Record

By JOHN SHORT

St. Mary evened its record at four wins against a like number of losses Saturday night at the Coliseum with a 40-33 win over Morral, leader of the Marion County League.

After battling to a 7-7 tie in the first quarter and ending the half deadlocked at 20-all, the Irish took the lead for keeps early in the third period when Butch Merchant dropped in a free throw and then along with Mike Anderson hit from the field. Junior Bell was the only Morral cager able to score during that period. He hit on one field goal attempt and added one from the foul line as the winners cruised to a 29-23 edge at the start of the final period.

Lead Cut

John Craycraft and Ted Murphy cut the Irish lead to a four-point bulge with less than three minutes to go and Clair Hensel scored to put the count at 33-29. Anderson helped ice the verdict when he dropped in a pair of charity throws with 2:52 showing on the clock. The two shots put the score at 35-29. Jerry Ballenger countered with a field goal after Jim Shifflet had scored for the Wildcats and Anderson scored from the free throw marker and from the corner to offset a pair of foul shots by Bell.

During the first two quarters the lead see-sawed back and forth with neither squad able to build up a working margin. The lead changed hands eight times with the Irish able to take a four-point cushion, 19-15 late in the second stanza. Murphy hit from the corner, and Hensel hooked one in and added one from the foul line to knot the count before the half ended.

The game marked one of the few times this season the Irish have been able to control the boards. Mike Anderson, Roger Micheli, and Jack McNamara gave the St. Mary squad almost complete control of the boards. During the first period alone, the Irish came down with 15 rebounds while Morral pulled in only four. Ballenger, Merchant and Johnny Messenger kept the Morral sharpshooters bothred and they were never able to set themselves for shots.

High-scoring John Craycraft was held to one of the lowest point totals of his high school career. He netted only six points on a pair of field goals and two charity throws.

Bell, Murphy and Hensel were high for the losers, all with seven points. Merchant and Anderson sparked the Irish with 13 each.

The loss snapped a 10-game winning streak for Vern Hensel's Wildcats. Their next action will be Friday night in a league scrap at Waldo. The Irish play host to Kenton Tuesday night at the Coliseum and will travel to Richwood Friday night. On Saturday St. Mary will be at Cardington.

In the preliminary the Irish reserves dropped Morral's futures 37-30. The winners held quarter leads of 4-3, 15-12 and 29-21.

Dick Micheli was high man for the winners with 14. Dick Mounts added nine and Jon Smith collected eight. Williams with 13 and Manny Saxton with 12 were high for the losers.

FAMILIAR VOICE

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—John Fox, working on the sports desk of the Raleigh News and Observer, thought he detected a familiar voice when a telephone caller asked "Can you please tell me the score of the Kentucky-Tennessee game?" After Fix replied that Kentucky had won 27 to 21, the voice said gleefully, "I know, I know. This is the fourth time I've called you. I just love to hear that score."

The only triple play in the National League during 1953 was executed by the Cincinnati Redlegs. It was made on Aug. 30 at the expense of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Wallace Says He Doesn't Recall Any Communists

WASHINGTON (AP)—Forrmer Vice President Henry A. Wallace says he knew of no Communists in the Department of Agriculture while he headed it, but that he did fire some members of an "extremist city group."

Wallace, who was secretary of agriculture in the first two years of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, said in a copyrighted interview with the magazine U. S. News and World Report made public today that he heard "nothing that I can remember" about Reds in the department in that period.

'I never met Harold Ware myself...never heard of him while I was in the department," Wallace said, referring to a man named frequently in testimony before congressional committees as head of a Communist cell in the Agriculture Department, Wallace continued:

"He came into the department as a consultant when either Hoover was president or Coolidge was president and never was a consultant while I was secretary. As a consultant under Hoover he probably—and I'm just assuming now—had the chance to cultivate people in the various bureaus of the department."

Ware's connection with the department, Wallace said, had ended about two months before he took office.

"The idea that there might be Communists in the Department of Agriculture never was borne in on my mind until Lee Pressman's testimony, which was '49 or '50," the former vice president said.

Pressman, who later became general counsel of the CIO, testified in August 1950 he was a member of the Communist party for about a year while employed in the Agriculture Department in the early 1930s. He named others as being active with him. Wallace discharged Pressman in 1935.

Tigers' Flag Hopes Riding On Shoulders of Rookies

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—The Detroit Tigers' youth movement is in full swing

Encouraged by the jump from last place to sixth in 1953, made possible by the high turnover in the vigorous rebuilding operation, the Tigers will bring 25 newcomers to their Lakeland, Fla., camp next month. Nineteen of these are freshmen.

On the 44-player roster will be 19 pitchers including seven rookies. Heading the list of hopefuls is Frank Lary, one-time university of Alabama righthander. Lary won 17 and lost 11 for third-place Buffalo of the International League after finishing his Army service. He is 22.

Another 22-year-old with a college background is Jim Bunning, 6-4 righthander from Xavier University, Cincinnati. Tiger officials, disregarding his 5-12 record at Little Rock, are sold on his potential.

Another Little Rock graduate is Milo Johnson, slender right-hander who won 16 and lost 11. Johnson, 33, is the sole exception to the accent on youth. Paul Foytack, 23, and Milto Jordan, 26, prepped in Buffalo last year. Jack Tighe, Bison manager, says Foytack can't miss now that he has acquired control. His record there was 13-10.

"Paul will win regularly in the American League if he is pitched regularly," Tighe said. "He was the best pitcher in the International League last year"

Jordan, who started last season with Detroit, finished up with Buffalo and was the International League's most effective pitcher with a 12-1 record before his arm went lame. The arm reportedly came around at the close of the season.

Dick Donovan, once the property of the Milwaukee Braves, was purchased from Atlanta where the 26-year-old righthander won 11 and lost eight. The seventh pitching hopeful is Bob Cruze, a 23-year-old lefthander who was a steady winner for Little Rock in 1951 before answering his service call.

The Tigers have brought up seven new infielders in the hope of strengthening the weak right side. Manager Freddie Hutchinson, satisfied with Ray Boone at third and Harvey Kuenn, the rookie of the year, at shortstop, presumably will start with holdovers Walter Dropo at first and Fred Hatfield at second. Aspiring to replace Hatfield at second will be rookies Frank Bolling from Buffalo and Harry Bright from Memphis. Veteran Johnny Pesky, a valuable performer, also must be reckoned with.

First baseman Charlie Kress, another draftee, may give Dropo a run for his money. The 32-year-old former Cincinnati infielder, hit a rousing .317 for Rochester where he cracked 25 homers and drove in 121 runs. He is easily the peer of Dropo on defense.

Other infield hopefuls include Reno Bertoia, the 18-year-old Michigan alumnus who was given a $25,000 to sign.

LUCKY LACE

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—After Duke closed its football season with a 35-20 win over North Carolina, Duke Coach Bill Murray tugged at the 3-inch remains of a shoe lace. "Guess I can throw this away now," he mused. "It's bad luck, you know, to change a shoe string during a football season." Duke finished with a 7-2-1 record

Question 'Link' With Smoking

Tobacco Industry Starts Study Into Lung Cancer

NEW YORK (AP)—A tobacco industry research committee has been formed by cigarette manufacturers and tobacco groups to conduct research on "the theory that cigarette smoking is in some way linked with lung cancer."

An advertisement appearing today in many major newspapers of the nation says the manufacturers believe 'the products we make are not injurious to health."

The display advertisement adds, however, that medical research should not be dismissed lightly "even though its results are inconclusive."

Formation of the committee, which includes all but one major American cigarette manufacturer and several associations of tobacco growers, was announced yesterday. Others may join the committee later, a spokesman said.

The advertisement, headed "A Frank Statement to Cigarette Smokers," was the industry committee's first activity.

The united industry members, the announcement said, have pledged "aid and assistance to the research effort into all phases of tobacco use and health," including financial aid in addition to funds already being contributed by individual companies for medical research.

The committee's advertisement noted statistics purportedly linking lung cancer to cigarette smoking, and also mentioned that some scientists have questioned the significance of recent experiments on lung cancer.

"For more than 30 years," the advertisement declared, "tobacco has given solace, relaxation and enjoyment to mankind. At one time or another during those years critics have held it responsible for practically every disease of the human body. One by one these charges have been abandoned for lack of evidence.

"Regardless of the record of the past, the fact that cigarette smoking today should even be suspected as a cause of a serious disease is a matter of deep concern to us."

The advertisement, calling the committee the industry's answer to questions about "what we are doing to meet the public's concern," declared:

"In charge of the research activities of the committee will be a scientist of unimpeachable integrity and national repute. In addition there will be an advisory board of scientists disinterested in the cigarette industry. A group of distinguished men from medicine, science and education will be invited to serve on this board. These scientists will advise the committee on its research activities."

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. is the only major cigarette manufacturer in the nation not listed as a committee sponsor.

NEW FORD TRUCKS
with TRIPLE ECONOMY!
Ford takes the lead in ALL 3 vital factors that make for lower-cost trucking!

1. Now, only in Ford Trucks—gas-saving, Low-Friction, high-compression, overhead-valve, deep-block engines in all truck models! 115- to 170-h.p.!

It's another great Ford FIRST! Ford now offers the only full line of ultra-modern Low-Friction truck engines! Short-stroke design cuts power-wasting friction up to 33%. More of the developed power is delivered to move your load—gas goes farther!

All Ford engines have deep-skirt, more rigid engine blocks—for better main bearing support and smoother performance. All five engines have Ford-designed overhead rotating valves for longer valve life. Ford gives you new higher compression with regular gas!

Over a billion miles of actual service have proved what these ultra-modern Ford Truck engines can deliver in performance and economy. Now, they're standard in all of Ford's more than 220 truck models. Yours, in the one right truck for your job!

NOW! 5 Ford engines offer the mightiest concentration of power per cubic inch ever in any truck line! V-8 and SIX!

For the power they develop, the engines in the 1954 Ford Truck line have less cubic inch displacement than engines in other-make lines. For example, Ford's 239 cu. in. Power King V-8 develops its 130 h.p. on as much as 43 cu. in. less displacement. Smaller-displacement engines normally need less gas! That's one big reason why Ford concentrated power offers greater economy!

The man we want must be high grade (not high pressure), ambitious and sincere. Earnings are paid in advance, no investment is needed, no collections, no delliveries.
